Stalin Hails Wallace Plan as Basis for Accord

LATE NEWS

Sergeant Protesting Anti-Soviet Policy, Say Reds

LONDON, Tuesday, May 18—(AP)—Moscow Radio said today Sgt. James M. McMillin, of the U. S. Army, has told the Mayor of Moscow he intends to stay in Russia "as a protest against the anti-Soviet policies of the capitalists who at present rule America."

The broadcast said the 21-year-old sergeant put his reasons for refusing to go home in a letter to the Moscow Mayor and Ambassador Walter B. Smith.

The State Department in Washington announced Sunday night that McMillin, absent without leave since Friday from his post in the military attache's office of the embassy in Moscow, had obviously been "seduced and exploited by an experienced Soviet woman agent."

The spokesman described Sgt. McMillin as "a young and inexperienced American." (Another story on Page 6.)

Tank Truck Blast Shakes Joplin, Mo.

JOPLIN, Mo., May 17—(AP)—Thousands of panic-stricken persons jammed Joplin's streets Monday night as a violent explosion rocked the city.

Two men were injured, one of them critically.

The blast was caused by explosion of fumes in an empty 5,000-gallon gasoline tank truck seven blocks from the downtown business district. The truck was being repaired at a body works plant.

Joplin has a population of approximately 37,000 persons.

The blast sent thousands of persons running into the streets, jammed telephone exchange switchboards and created a traffic snarl that took all available police an hour to untangle.

Yugoslavs Seize Trieste Fishing Boats

TRIESTE, Free Territory, May 17—(AP)—Civil police in Venezia Giulia said Monday night that police of the Yugoslav occupation zone had captured seven fishing vessels with 80 persons aboard.

The Venezia Giulia police said the boats were taken to Capodistria and the crews were forced to sell their catches at a low price in Yugoslav occupation lire. The police said the boats were seized Sunday night.

The fishermen were charged with fishing in Yugoslav waters.

Regent Group Orders Savannah Unit Closed

SAVANNAH, May 17—(AP)—The Savannah Branch of the University of Georgia will close June 4, it was announced Monday by a special committee of the State Board of Regents.

The local branch was opened in the Fall of 1946 to take care of students who could not gain admission to overcrowded colleges. It had been planned to close the branch in 1949.

Intended originally to take care of about 3,000 students, the school's highest enrollment was only a little more than 800. At present only 550 students are enrolled. About two thirds of these are veterans and about a third of the total are non-residents.

The committee named by the Board issued a joint statement saying it appeared that all single students could be taken care of at other institutions and that 78 married students could be cared for in Savannah under the sponsorship of Armstrong Junior College and the University's Division of General Extension.

The committee statement said cost of operating the school with a small enrollment was prohibitive. It did not comment on changes in faculty or suspension of four students for "unauthorized" activity.

Members of the committee were Rutherford L. Ellis, Atlanta, Chairman; Miller R. Bell, Milledgeville; Sandy Beaver, Gainesville and James Peterson, Soperton.

Marriage Training Urged in Schools

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 17—(AP) The Southern Baptist Woman's Missionary Union was told Monday that training for marriage should be taught in public schools.

Dr. Grace Sloan Overton, New York author, lecturer and family consultant, said there should be two types of training:

"One an orientation of life for child n of from 12 to 15, and the other training for marriage itself, for those from 16 to 20."

"High school," she said, "is the crisis spot. One of the big troubles has been our dangling a code of morals before our youth for which education has refused to train and communities have refused to underwrite."

Police Net Tightens in N. Carolina

By KEELER McCARTNEY

Search for Atlanta's slippery Jessie James Roberts, Jr., centered in the Charlotte-Concord, N. C., area Monday night.

Charlotte Police Chief Frank N. Littlejohn said he had received information which led him to believe Roberts was in the area. He said he hoped for an early arrest.

The Charlotte Police chief said Roberts is believed to have had contacts in the area in connection with stolen car operations.

Meanwhile, Chief Herbert Jenkins, Det. Lt. E. O. Mullen and Det. George Barrett were investigating a report that a man allegedly fitting Roberts' description was registered at a tourist court in Cartersville.

According to the report, the man, accompanied by a woman and a small child, was driving a new model automobile with Illinois license plates. He listed Chicago as his address.

Meanwhile, law enforcement officers in Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana were alerted to be on the lookout for the bold accused auto thief.

This Jesse James, 1948 style, brazenly walked out of City jail early Sunday after removing the identification papers from a cellmate and posting bond.

Det. Superintendent E. I. Hilderbrand quoted Roberts' attorney as saying Roberts called him around 6:30 a. m. Sunday identifying himself as "R. B. Smith," the alias he used in dealing with used car dealers. He was quoted as saying:

"I'm in West Point, Ga. I paid my way out. I just wanted you to know I'm on my way."

Det. Hilderbrand said L. O. Padgett, of the Secret Service, had informed police the modern Jesse James was indicted Feb. 27, in Jacksonville, Fla., on a conspiracy, counterfeiting charge and that he had never been apprehended on this charge.

According to the Secret Service Agents, Roberts was not indicted when he was first linked with the Florida counterfeiting ring because he agreed to turn state's evidence, but that later he failed to show up to reveal his information and was indicted, along with several others.

Police Chief Littlejohn, confirmed the charge late Monday that S. R. Hooper, who was in the cell with Roberts at the time Roberts escaped from city jail, is the brother-in-law of Roberts. Atlanta police had been investigating such a report.

Hooper was returned to Concord in the company of Dets. C. C. Hagler and J. B. Newell.

Det. Hilderbrand revealed that Roberts and Hooper had laid a clever scheme to escape, which for some reason went afoul. Hooper was quoted as saying the pair planned to call the turnkey into the cell, knock him out and then let Roberts don the turnkey's uniform and walk out. Instead, Roberts took the identification papers of John W. Weatherly, who was also in the cell, and made his getaway.

He added he had no grounds at present for suspending any individual officers, pointing out that

U. S. Adopts Wait-See Attitude

LONDON, Tuesday, May 18—(AP)—Prime Minister Stalin said Monday night Russia was ready, if the United States were willing, to negotiate the differences between the two nations on the basis of recent proposals to him by Henry A. Wallace.

Stalin was replying to Wallace's "open letter" which the third party presidential candidate addressed to the Russian Prime Minister at a recent political rally in New York. Stalin's answer was broadcast by the Moscow Radio and distributed here by the Soviet Monitor.

"I do not know whether the United States Government approves of Mr. Wallace's program as a basis for agreement between the U.S.S.R and the United States," Stalin said.

"As far as the Government of the U.S.S.R. is concerned, it considers that Mr. Wallace's program could serve as a good and fruitful basis for such an agreement and for the development of international co-operation."

The White House and State Department were silent Monday night on Premier Josef Stalin's offer to negotiate a settlement with the United States, and the Capital generally kept its fingers crossed.

They were waiting to see whether Stalin's remarks represent:

1. An attempt to befuddle and confuse the United States and thereby weaken its hand, or

2. A genuine change in the Russian tactics which have led to one impasse after another in international gatherings called to straighten out a war-torn world.

Stalin said the Soviet Government considered the "co-existence" of the United States and the Russian systems as both possible and necessary.

"It is possible to agree or to disagree with the program of Mr. Wallace," Stalin said, "but one thing is, nevertheless, beyond doubt; there is no statesman for peace and co-operation among the peoples who can ignore this program."

Stalin derided the "inadequacy" of the recent diplomatic exchange between the two governments. On May 4, U. S. Ambassador Walter B. Smith conferred with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov. Molotov replied May 9 that the Soviet Union was "in agreement" with an American proposal for "discussion and settlement" of mutual differences.

U. S. Government sources said later, however, that Smith had not issued an invitation to Russia for bi-lateral talks.

Stalin specifically identified Wallace as a "third party presidential candidate" and said Wallace's open letter offered "a concrete program for peaceful settlement."

"The main thing is that Mr. Wallace in his letter makes an open and honest attempt to give a concrete program for peaceful settlement—concrete proposals on all the basic questions of difference between the USSR and the United States."

Stalin listed Wallace's proposals as:

1. A general reduction of armaments and the prohibition of atomic weapons.

2. Conclusion of peace treaties with Germany and Japan, and the

Stassen, Dewey Argue Red Ban

PORTLAND, Ore., May 17—(UP)—Presidential Candidates Thomas E. Dewey and Harold E. Stassen, meeting in the tradition of the Lincoln-Douglas debates, argued Monday before a nationwide radio audience and Dewey accused his opponent of "not adhering to the subject of the debate."

The subject of the debate, climax of the Stassen-Dewey battle for Oregon's 12-man Republican delegation, was the Stassen proposal to outlaw Communism in the United States.

Stassen opened his presentation with a summation of his views on inflation, military preparedness, the United Nations and world-wide political tyranny. Then he launched his arguments in favor of outlawing Communism.

The debate was held in the main studio of Portland Radio Station KEX and was broadcast nationally over three networks.

Stassen opened the debate with a 20-minute affirmative presentation, and was followed by Dewey's 20-minute answer.

Stassen said that one part of his proposed program for America "has been directly challenged."

"When World War II ended, I felt that the key question of future peace would arise if bad policies were followed by the Soviet Union of Russia and by the World Communist Party directed from Moscow.

"I have reached the conclusion that the Communist organizations in the World are absolutely directed by the rulers of Russia in the Kremlin.

"I have reached the conclusion that the objectives of these Communist organizations in the World are to overthrow free governments, to destroy the liberties of men, and to bring other countries under the domination of the dictators of Russia."

Stassen said Communist organizations are not really political parties—"they are actually Fifth Columns; they are Quisling cliques.

"I, therefore, have urged for some months," Stassen continued, "that we need a new law to directly outlaw these Communist organizations. Gov. Dewey has insisted that our present laws are adequate."

"I believe in keeping the Communist Party out in the open, so we can defeat it and all it stands for," Dewey said. "I am unalterably, wholeheartedly and unswervingly against any scheme to write laws outlawing people because of their religious, political, social or economic ideas."

He said the proposal was nothing "but the method of Hitler and Stalin. . . . It is thought control borrowed from the Japanese war leadership. . . . It is an attempt to beat down ideas with a club."

Alpha Fowler, Adjutant's Father, Dies

Alpha Alsbury Fowler, Sr., 61, former State Legislator, operator of the Empire Theater in Atlanta, and father of Georgia's Adjutant General died Monday afternoon at his home in Douglasville.

Alpha Fowler, Sr.

Influential in State political circles and governmental affairs in his home county, Fowler served in the House of Representatives in 1927, 1929-31, 1939, 1941 and 1945. He was in the Senate in 1931, 1937-38, and 1943. He served as Commissioner of Douglas County from 1920 to 1924.

Born in Canton, Dec. 10, 1886, Fowler attended the public schools of Cherokee County. He was a Baptist, Democrat, Mason, and Shriner.

Fowler married Julia Emily Nightingale in Atlanta in 1916, and they had two children, Alpha, Jr. (the present Adjutant General), and Julia Jane. Mrs. Fowler died in 1930. In 1932, Fowler and Dorothy Selman were married in Douglasville, and they had two children, Oscar Selman and James Raymond.

500 Arabs Drowned, Jewish Source Claims

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A Jewish source said Monday night "up to 500 Arab troops were drowned" after the Jews opened a hydroelectric dam and flooded a plain. The region was below sea-level in the Jordan Valley along the Palestine-Trans-Jordan frontier.

The Jewish source said Arab troops with tanks and heavy equipment were trapped by waters released from behind a dam near Deganya, south of the Sea of Galilee. Some tanks were said to have become mired in the swirling, muddy waters.

At Lake Success, the United States and Russia demanded that the United Nations Security Council order an immediate cessation of war in Palestine. The American resolution declared a threat to the peace and a breach of peace actually existed in Palestine at the present time.

The Moscow radio said the Soviet Union officially had recognized Israel. The new Jewish State already has been recognized by the United States.

Meanwhile, Jewish and Arab accounts told of a developing struggle for Northeastern Palestine—the fertile Galilee region claimed by the new Jewish State of Israel.

The Arabs said Egyptian troops, advancing through Southern Palestine, had reached positions within 30 miles of Tel Aviv, temporary capital of Israel. Tel Aviv itself underwent its third straight day of enemy air attack.

American correspondents in Jerusalem, in a pooled dispatch dated Sunday, said Jewish fighters held virtually all the heart of the Holy City.

In Cairo the Arab Higher Executive office said the Jewish Agency had authorized the surrender of Jews in the Old City of Jerusalem to the Arab volunteer command. The office added that the surrender terms "have been accepted by the Old City Jews."

The fighting in Northeastern Palestine centered in two districts. The first included Jordan River bridgehead areas at Samakh on the Southern tip of the Sea of Galilee and Gesher, five miles to the South. The second was along the Palestine-Lebanon border in the vicinity of Malikya.

Haganah said Jewish fighters repulsed Arab armor and infantry at Samakh and Gesher Sunday, and knocked out five armored cars. The Jews said Gesher had been put under heavy artillery attack.

Safe Job Nets $1,200 In Ponce de Leon Cafe

Safe burglars, striking for the second time in two days, early Monday "punched" a safe in a Ponce de Leon Avenue restaurant, taking more than $1,200 in cash.

Atlanta police said the burglars entered the Blue Lantern Restaurant, 760 Ponce de Leon Ave., N. E., by crawling through a small vent fan opening. A quantity of checks and business papers also were taken.

Describing the work as that of "highly skilled safe crackers," police said it was the "cleanest safe punching job ever seen in Atlanta."

Det. Lt. W. M. Cox, head of the Police Burglary Squad, said the safe apparently was opened by the same men who Saturday night punched a safe in the office of the H. and H. Motors, 200 Spring St., N. W. More than $200 was taken in the Spring Street burglary, Cox said. In addition, an opened safe in the office of the Georgia Distributor Company at the same address was rifled of $50 cash.

Cox said the burglars opened both safes by knocking off the combination dial after which the tumblers were "punched" into position. In both cases, the operation was done with such professional skill that neither safe was scarred or dented.

City Revokes Beer, Wine License; 'Show Cause' Hearing Set June 4

Police-assailed Hamburger Heaven, of 160 Peachtree St., N. W., lost its license to sell beer and wine Monday—even as Mayor Hartsfield accused its operators of "political blackmail" and they marshalled affidavits to show that two detectives, accompanied by a 16-year-old boy, bought mixed drinks, wine and beer in 17 Atlanta hotels, restaurants and drive-ins.

City Council by unanimous vote revoked the license and Hartsfield promptly approved the action at about the same time Judge Ralph Pharr, of Fulton Superior Court, was signing an order demanding that the City show cause June 4, why it should not be "restrained and enjoined from revoking the permit."

Judge Pharr's order was granted on petition of Reuben Garland, attorney for J. S. Dumas Enterprises, operator of Hamburger Heaven. The petition charged that enforcement of city ordinances controling the sale of beer and wines to minors and mixed drinks is "unfair and discriminatory."

As soon as he was served with a copy of the court order, the Mayor conferred with Asst. City Atty. J. Charlie Murphy and it was decided that since no injunction had been granted the revocation would be allowed to stand, pending the June 4 hearing.

Charging Dumas with "a bold attempt at political blackmail", Hartsfield told newsmen the restaurant operator had demanded "that I come into this Council and stop the revocation. I told him I would not do anything about it."

The petition for an injunction, naming Hartsfield, Police Chief Herbert Jenkins and members of Council Police Committee, was accompanied by affidavits from two private detectives, R. C. Hargrove and R. T. Yearwood and a 16-year-old boy, Samuel Holbrook. The affidavits, dated May 12 and 13, recounted the alleged purchase of beer for the minor or mixed drinks at 17 establishments, including the Owl Room of the Ansley Hotel, the Five o'Clock Club, Dogwood Room of the Henry Grady, Taj-Ma Room at the Cox-Carlton, Ship Ahoy, Bob Stanley's on Forsyth Street, China Lane Restaurant, Ye Ole Herrons, 26 Club, Samoan Room at the Georgian Terrace, Bob Stanley's on Peachtree, The Point restaurant at Pershing Point, Mammy's Shanty, the Cotton Patch, the Yellow Jacket Inn, Emiles and the Blue Room at Imperial Hotel.

McGill Featured Tonight On ABC's 'Town Meeting'

Ralph McGill, Constitution Editor whose writings voice the tenor of our growing Southland, is featured on the nation-wide ABC network broadcast of America's Town Meeting at 8:30 tonight. WCON, The Constitution station, will air the program locally.

Up for discussion on the Town Meeting tonight is the question of the hour: "How Should Democracy Deal With Groups Which Aim to Destroy Democracy?"

Presidential Candidate Robert Taft, Senator from Ohio, will also be one of the speakers, as will Rep. Richard M. Nixon, Republican, California, and former Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold. The voice of young America will be heard through the discussion by a young Iowa high school student, Richard Ball, of Hardenden.

McGill left Atlanta Monday night for Washington, where the broadcast will originate from Constitution Hall, under the auspices of the Department of Justice and the National Education Association, which currently is sponsoring the Third National Conference on Citizenship in Washington.

Three Missing in Series of Blasts At New Jersey Chemical Plant

KEARNEY, N. J., May 17—(AP)—Several small tanks said to contain 30,000 gallons of pitchblende exploded Monday night at the Kopper Co.'s tar and chemical plant and a night superintendent said at least three men still were missing.

The series of explosions, which started at about 11:50 p. m. (EDT) set off a fire in the plant's two-story brick building.

Harold Williams, night superintendent, said at least a dozen men were in the building changing their clothes when the blast shook the combination laboratory and lockerroom.

One man was reported seriously injured with burns at North Hudson Hospital.

The first explosion was heard at least 10 miles away and ambulances and fire companies were rushed to the scene.

Police said a shift was being changed at the time.

There was still no official report of possible casualties.

Spectators reported that two men were seen to dive into the nearby Hackensack River.

British Labor Chief Sees New War Threat

SCARBOROUGH, England, Tuesday, May 18—(UP)—Emmanuel Shinwell, Secretary of State for War and National Labor Party Chairman, warned Monday that a new war may come without any nation wanting it.

He outlined a four-point domestic policy, the first point of which said there could be no return to unrestrained free enterprise in Britain.

Shinwell, delivering the keynote address at the Labor Party's 47th annual conference, said it is nothing short of a calamity that there is talk of another war three years after the end of World War II.

He said there must be a demonstration of willingness for peace, but "there can be no one way traffic in goodwill.

"At present, suspicions and misunderstandings are all embracing," he said. "While it is doubtful whether any nations want war, despite the bellicose utterances of some people in every country—for every country has a few who are ready to urge others to fight—a fortuitous set of circumstances might easily precipitate war."

Eniwetok Tests Yield New Weapons

WASHINGTON, May 17—(AP)—The Government Monday announced completely successful tests of three improved atomic weapons, in what was described as a "milestone in atomic development."

Secrecy cloaked all details of what may well be tremendous developments beyond the A-bomb which wrote new history in the horrors of war by wrecking Hiroshima Aug. 6, 1945.

Monday's report came from the White House after Chairman David E. Lilienthal and four other members of the Atomic Energy Commission gave Mr. Truman an oral report on the recent tests. They were held at Eniwetok Island, far Pacific atoll which is the proving ground for America's No. 1 weapon.

The report came as the Commission became more deeply tangled in political and labor troubles.

On Capitol Hill, the Republican-dominated Joint Committee on Atomic Energy approved 11 to five a bill to extend the terms of the five commissioners a flat 23 months. President Truman has renominated Lilienthal to a five-year term and the others to staggered terms of one to four years.

Sen. McMahon, Democrat, Connecticut, charged the Republican leadership with an indirect attempt "to make sure that in two years they get a chance to throw Mr. Lilienthal out."

"Conceivably we might have atomic industrial power within two years," said McMahon, and then the Republicans could remove Lilienthal a public power advocate—from the Commission.

The authors of the 23-month extender said the bill merely gives Congress time to see how the atomic program is developing before making the full term appointments.

Lilienthal told reporters 10,000 men were involved in the tests at Eniwetok — military personnel, scientists, engineers and others. The date or dates are still secret, but on April 19 it had been announced that "an atomic weapon" had been tested at Eniwetok.

It was Lilienthal who Monday described the new tests as a milestone in atomic progress.

and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids, Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

SIXTY years ago, Dr. Horne, a German scientist, discovered the source of GEO-MINERAL. In a remote spot in Mississippi, he found that in several small areas, about fifteen feet below the ground surface, was a layer of mineral bearing clay. He also learned that for years, first the Indians and then the people living in this section had been using minerals extracted from this clay for many medicinal purposes. He heard many stories from people who had been relieved of various ailments by drinking a solution of minerals extracted from this clay. The scientist opened a mine there, and ever since, the fame of this natural mineral medicine has spread throughout the wide continent.

Drugless Health!

REGARDLESS of how long you have been sick, and how many medicines you tried before, you can now hope for relief if you try GEO-MINERAL. Your trouble may be mineral-iron deficiency. Lack of minerals makes your blood weak, your resistance low — run down. Simple anemia, headaches, nervousness, gas, toxins, indigestion, and other symptoms may be present. Arthritis and rheumatic pains also may develop. GEO-MINERAL helps to enrich your blood, and make you strong, full of pep, life and energy.

HIPOCRATES was the father of medicine. Ever since his time, minerals and other natural medicines were a reliable remedy for most of our common ailments. Doctors today use minerals as basic material in many of their prescriptions. GEO-MINERAL contains minerals found in the world's best springs. Watch the results a day or two after using it. The housecleaning it will do in your body, the poisons it will bring out. When you see this, do not get alarmed—thank Nature who created GEO-MINERAL as a sign that the medicine is working on you, and realize its priceless value.

Wonder Minerals

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid condition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ills. People, on the advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The most important of our people, including doctors, go to mineral springs. They would not patronize these springs without any benefit.

YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous water. We have all heard of the wondrous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece where, according to legend Hercules, the god of eternal youth and strength, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

Rich Red Blood

MEDICAL records show 68% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite, feel blue, when your eyes lack that bright spark, and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and when life seems not worth living — it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. Geo-Mineral then is what you need.

GEO-MINERAL is not a physic, and does not interfere with the foods in your stomach. It is a mineral-iron supplement and adds rich red blood, helps to build you up and assists your system to throw away poisons. When the poisons are out of your system, you begin to feel a new life, as Nature starts to complete the recovery.

100% Guaranteed!

WE urge everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not satisfied, your money will be refunded in full.

TRY it today—it may do wonders for you, and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

SHOW Geo-Mineral to your doctor and let him tell you, after he reads the formula on the label, about its merit. GEO-MINERAL contains NO alcohol, NO preservatives, NO oil. NO harmful drugs, NO dope—is NOT habit forming. Contains ONLY Natural mineral ingredients highly recommended by the medical profession.

Read What They Say!

Pharmacists, like doctors, know medicine best. Thousands of druggists of high reputation, who now sell Geo-Mineral, report amazing results by its users.

"We not only sell Geo-Mineral"—says G. A. Littlefield, Manager of Smith's Drug Store, Gastonia, N. C.—"but as pharmacists, we know good medicine, and we believe there is none better than Geo-Mineral as a supplement for mineral deficiency. Doctors, hospitals, sanatoriums know the value of natural minerals. We are not surprised at the many users who came back to buy more and told us stories of amazing benefit. We recommend it to our friends, relatives, and beloved ones, and to every one wishing for better health."

"We wish to state that after selling Geo-Mineral for eight months, this product has broken all sales records in the medicine line in our drug store"—reports Jack Wright, owner of Economy Drug Co., Anderson, S. C. "Users report almost miraculous results, helping sufferers with rheumatism, arthritis, weak kidneys, and various stomach ailments. We believe that there exist very few items on the druggists' shelf with the merit of this natural mineral medicine. Of thousands of bottles sold on guarantee basis, there have been very few refunds made."

"We have sold Geo-Mineral for the last six months and it has been one of the best selling drug items we have ever handled"—say Porter Bros., pharmacists of Concord, N. C. Greeks Offer Reward for Polk Slayers

SALONIKA, Greece, May 17—(AP)—Constantin Rentis, Minister of Public Order, posted a reward of 25,000,000 drachmae (about $2,500) Monday for information leading to the arrest of the slayers of George Polk, American broadcaster for CBS.

Rentis arrived from Athens to take over personal direction of the investigation into the death of Polk, whose trussed up body was found floating in the bay off Salonika Monday. He had been shot in the back of the head.

The police refused to divulge details of their investigation, but more than 20 Communists were reported under questioning.

Authoritative sources said the police were working on the theory that Polk made contact with the Communist underground in Salonika and spent several hours in a Communist hideout before he was shot and dumped in the bay. Friends who saw Polk for the last time a week ago said he told them he was trying to arrange an interview with Markos Vafiades, the Greek guerrilla leader.

A leading government official who would not be quoted by name said "we are 1,000 percent sure it's the work of Communists."

Peace Hopes Rise in Meat Strike; 2 Injured in Violence at Chrysler

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mob disorder highlighted the Chrysler automotive strike Monday and Swift & Co., meat packers, renewed its wage increase offer as a settlement for the 62-day old packinghouse strike.

Special squads of State police fought pickets at one of the 16 struck Chrysler plants in Highland Park, Mich., a Detroit suburb. Two policemen were reported hospitalized. Gov. Kim Sigler, of Michigan, said he was preparing to alert the National Guard if necessary.

It was the first major violence of the six-day old strike called by the CIO United Automotive workers in support of a 30 cents hourly wage raise. They now receive $1.43 an hour.

Youngdahl

The UAW threatened also to call a strike of 225,000 General Motors workers if no wage settlement is reached by May 28.

Chrysler obtained a court order requiring the UAW to show cause why "mass picketing, threats and coercion" should not be restrained at plants in Marysville, Mich. The order is returnable Thursday.

Swift's wage proposal re-offer was made at a meeting attended by Federal conciliators and Gov. Luther Youngdahl, of Minnesota. Gov. Youngdahl said he intervened personally in behalf of the people of his State where National Guard units are patrolling three areas because of packinghouse violence.

The CIO United Packinghouse Workers' Union called out 100,000 members in some 140 plants throughout the country in support of a 29 cents hourly wage increase. The strike was called first against the major packers—Swift, Armour, Cudahy and Wilson—on March 16. Later independent plants throughout the nation were struck.

First, the packers offered nine cents, then withdrew the proposal. On May 3 they reinstated the raise proposal before Federal conciliators. Recently workers have been returning to work, the Packers said, on the basis of the nine cents raise. The Union said their strike was still "effective."

The Swift offer also stipulated the Union must order employees to return to work as directed by local plant superintendents, and employees discharged for unlawful acts could air their grievances under the existing contracts.

Railroad labor and management representatives will resume negotiations Tuesday in their wage dispute that came within hours of tying up the nations' transportation system.

In Washington the White House said officials of the three brotherhoods that called the strike for May 11 will meet with rail committeemen. They will meet, the White House said, "in an effort to reach an agreement under which the Government can turn back the railroads to private management."

President Truman seized the carriers to prevent the tieup. Leaders of both sides have been forecasting a settlement of the long dispute over wages and working rules.

3 Students Win $30,000 In Week's Roulette Play

LAS VEGAS, Nev., May 17—(UP)—Hundreds of persons Monday jammed around three college youths who at the end of a week of bucking the roulette wheel stood $30,000 winners.

Albert Hibbs, Roy Walford and Jack Cortez stepped up their bets to $25 on each turn of the wheel and had no intention of quitting as long as they were winning.

The three started out playing zero with small bets last Monday. As their winnings grew, so did their bets until Monday when they jumped from $10 on each roll to $25. For the past few days they have been playing No. 1.

Many of the spectators watching the roulette marathon joined them in betting and frequently $50 or more was riding on each roll, costing the Pioneer Club nearly $2,000 each time the number won.

The Club said it had no intentions of changing the wheel on the three players unless they asked for it. The Club admitted the winning streak had cost it money, but said that was offset by the large number drawn there to see them play.

Hibbs and Walford had made two previous attempts to beat the roulette wheels here and quit each time after losing. Last year they won $12,000 in Reno before a run of bad luck caused them to quit.

Anti-Union Talks Okayed by NLRB

WASHINGTON, May 17—(AP)—The National Labor Relations Board ruled Monday that an employer may require his workers to attend a meeting on company time and property and listen to anti-union speeches.

The Board based its decision on the Taft-Hartley Labor Act. It reversed the doctrine of a 1946 case which held exactly the opposite under the Wagner Labor Act.

In the earlier "free speech" ruling, called the Clark Brothers Co. case, the NLRB had held that delivery of an anti-union speech at a compulsory meeting of workers violated their constitutional freedom of speech. The theory was that free speech requires an exchange of ideas and the right of a listener not to listen.

Two Workers Arrested in Reuther Case

BALTIMORE, May 17—(AP)—Two Detroit automobile workers were arrested here Monday for last month's shooting of Walter P. Reuther, President of the United Auto Workers Union, Capt. of Dets. Henry J. Kriss announced.

He said Eastern District police took the two men in custody on a "tip."

Both men gave Baltimore addresses. They were docketed at Eastern Police Station as being "held for investigation; suspected of assault and shooting."

Reuther was wounded the night of April 19 by a gunman who fired through the kitchen window of the union chief's home. More than $120,000 in rewards have been offered for capture of the gunman.

Opponent Yelps, Thompson Says

Acting Gov. Thompson declared Monday that his opposition in the gubernatorial campaign is "squealing like a stuck pig because they feel the ground slipping from under their feet."

Thompson's comments on the campaign came as he branded as false Herman Talmadge's charges that he (Thompson) boasted of having Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook write opinions to suit the Thompson campaign.

The Acting Governor said that "they" (Talmadge) ran a fairly good race in 1947 and now have discovered that 1948 is the time for the election.

Woman Warns Her Bank Not To Pay U.S. Tax Lien

WESTPORT, Conn., May 17—(UP)—Connecticut Industrialist Vivien Kellems, who refused to collect withholding taxes from her employees, said Monday that she was ready to fight the Government's attempt to collect a $1,685.40 lien on her bank account.

Opening another round in her battle with the Bureau of Internal Revenue, Miss Kellems leveled her guns at the Westport Bank & Trust Company. She threatened the bank with legal action if it turned the amount of the lien over to the Government "without a proper court order."

"The money demanded from you is not yours," said the fighting woman industrialist in a letter to her bank. "It belongs to the Kellems Company, is deposited in that name and is entrusted to the Westport Bank & Trust Company for safekeeping."

Miss Kellems charged the Internal Revenue Department.

Georgia's GOP Split Laid to Savannah Man

The desire of Gilbert Johnson, of Savannah, to hand-pick the party leaders and Republican voters of the First Congressional District is the only thing that is keeping Georgia's Republican Party split into two factions, National Committeeman Wilson Williams charged here Monday.

Williams told the Roscoe Tucker State Central Committee meeting at the Fulton County Courthouse that the Roy Foster group insisted on Tucker recognizing Johnson, and Tucker refused to do it. Williams said Johnson doesn't hold county conventions as required by party rules, but that he personally designates party leaders in that district and also tells Negroes they cannot vote the Republican ticket unless they register with him.

Two former leaders of the Foster group addressed the Tucker meeting. Frank Doughman, of Atlanta, former Foster Secretary, and State Sen. T. A. Chastain, of Talking Rock, told their former enemies that the late Secretary of State John B. Wilson had agreed to recognize Foster before the Foster group even had filed a request with him. Both said Wilson had no authority to certify delegates to the Republican National

Tell People U. S.-Soviet Facts, Wallace

OAKLAND, Calif., May 17—(AP) Henry A. Wallace said Monday night the American people should be told whether there is any issue between the United States and Russia "which can't be settled by peaceful, hopeful negotiations."

The third party Presidential aspirant, in a prepared campaign address, referred to his recent open letter to Premier Stalin in which Wallace outlined what he considers to be the outstanding differences between the two powers.

"I have said before that the number one responsibility of this government is to catalog the outstanding differences between the United States and Russia to the end that the people may know whether there is any issue which can't be settled by peaceful, hopeful negotiations," Wallace said, "and whether there is any issue which justifies turning the world into an armed camp.

"That catalog of differences would be the agenda for a meeting, and whether the men who fear a meeting want to do it or not, the people have a right to that list."

Builder Fires Union Labor, 'Opens House'

NEWARK, N. J., May 17—(AP)—The Fairmount Construction Company announced Monday it had fired all 300 union emploees working on the $12,000,000 Ivy Hill Housing Project in order to institute an "open shop" to cut down the high cost of union labor.

Arthur H. Padula, Vice President of the Company, said "the building trades in Newark have the highest scale in the United States. No one has dared oppose them, but I'm set to fight them to a finish."

He said he planned to resume work on the housing project Tuesday, and would hire skilled and unskilled laborers willing to work on an open shop basis. Veterans would be given preference, he added.

Padula, who served as a Navy Seabee commander during World War II, said the building trades unions adopted the following wage scales on April 1: Laborers $2.10 an hour, carpenters $2.90, and bricklayers and masons $3.15.

He said workers hired under the open shop would work 40 hours a week under the old wage scale: Laborers $1.75 an hour, carpenters $2.50, and bricklayers and masons $2.75.

many suspects were locked up in connection with larceny of automobiles. He said, however, that detectives should have been more careful in making arrangements in the jail.

As to Roberts' telephone conversation with his attorney Sunday in which he was quoted as saying he "paid his way out," Chief Jenkins said he was inclined to believe Roberts meant he paid the bondsmen the regular fee.

According to detectives Roberts had $61 when he was admitted to jail. This was taken from him, but was later returned, police said. Officers said Roberts paid the bondsman, Leon Johnson, of the Atlanta Bonding Company, $15 in fees out of a $20 bill.

Officers said a new turnkey was on duty at the time Roberts escaped.

Referring to the $100,000 worth of late-model automobiles Roberts is charged with stealing, Detective Hilderbrand said the clever operator had worked out a system of cutting off the motor numbers so smoothly they could not be detected and could predict fairly accurately what serial numbers would be used on new cars rolling from the factory at a given time.

Several times, Hilderbrand said, Roberts was questioned by used car dealers about autos he was trying to sell, saying they did not want to become involved in "hot automobiles." His reply in each instance, the detective said, was, "I couldn't afford to pay for a stolen car."

Occasionally, the detective said, he would buy one and offer it for sale.

No trace could be found Monday of Roberts' wife. Detective Hilderbrand said Hooper placed a call from City jail to Mrs. Hooper early Sunday morning. The call, he said, was made to a family living near the Roberts residence in Clarkston, since there is no telephone at the Roberts home.

Police said Mrs. Roberts "disappeared" some time Sunday.

Mrs. Weatherly, wife of the cellmate whose identification papers were lifted, told police she received two or three anonymous calls Sunday in which the caller asked who was talking and then hung up.

Detectives said if Hooper had managed to escape soon after Roberts made his getaway, Hooper was scheduled to go to a hotel in Tifton where Roberts' wife was to contact him and tell him where he could get in touch with Roberts.

Local officers had few clues to lead them in their search. Roberts was reported to have escaped in a taxicab instead of private automobile and they were still searching for the taxicab driver allegedly involved.

Police said Roberts was from Sylvester and Hooper from Lithonia.

Jessescape Works On Tampa Police

TAMPA, Fla., May 17—(AP)—Tampa police smiled when they arrested a man wanted for writing bad checks, but now they are scowling because he posed as a drunken prisoner and escaped.

Det. Insp. D. D. Stephens said police arrested a man identified as Earl T. Perkins. Because the city jail was crowded he was placed in a cell with a man accused of drunkenness.

Stephens said Perkins learned all he could about his cell mate and obtained his identfication papers. He even used the identification to obtain $18 left with the desk sergeant by the other prisoner.

The ruse was not discovered until the man accused of drunkenness asked that he be released on bond.

The Police Blotter

WRONG PLACE—An ice cream freezer is not a good place to keep money "on ice," police learned Monday. The Pickwick Drive-in, 891 Hemphill Ave., N. W., reported that $135 in cash, hidden in the store's freezer Saturday night, was taken over the weekend by burglars who broke into the establishment.

PERSISTENCE — A Negro who allegedly tried to enter the home of Mrs. E. C. Fowler, 262 Glenn St., S. W., early Monday was persistent in his efforts, police reported. After being scared away once by Mrs. Fowler's screams, the Negro returned several hours later for a second attempt. Mrs. Fowler's cries, plus a squad of police, chased him a second time.

HOTEL FIRE—J. C. Walraven, of 892 Columbia Ave., N. E., Monday was booked on a charge of malicious mischief in connection with a fire that caused slight damage to a mattress in the Hampton Hotel. Patrolman M. J. Price said Walraven apparently dropped off to sleep while smoking a cigarette.

RAID NETS SEVEN—A midday raid on a downtown service station Monday afternoon resulted in the arrest of seven Atlanta men on charges of disorderly conduct-gaming and confiscation of an "extra fancy" deck of plastic playing cards, police reported. Det. Sgt. L. L. Hause and Det. N. A. Chastain listed the arrested men as Glen Law, alias "Legs," 25, of 95 Harris St.; Felton Lancaster, alias "Crash," 28, of 468 Boulevard, N. E.; Paul Norman, 43, of 729 Willoughby St.; E. F. Scroggs, 50, of 1093 Hemphill Ave., N. W.; H. Moon, of 143 Mason St., and Gober Sosby, of 1109 Center St., N. W. All seven men were released on bonds of $100 each.

MOTHER IS 14

Grandfather Slays Infant

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., May 17—(UP)—Paul L. Hayner, father of four children, was charged with first degree murder Monday after he confessed he had strangled an infant shortly after it was born to his 14-year-old daughter.

Hayner, 34-year-old veteran, of Chenango Bridge, said he and his wife had assisted in the delivery of the child at 5 a. m. Monday morning. He told police the baby had a scalp laceration and cried constantly.

He said he strangled it shortly after the birth "to keep it from crying."

IN 10,000 YEARS, WARNS CHIROPODIST

No More Ingrown Nails, Bunions; The Reason? Toes on Way Out

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, May 17—(AP)—A foot specialist predicted Monday that 10,000 years from now nobody will suffer from ingrown toenails.

The reason is simple: By 11948 people will have practically no toes. Hence, no toenails.

Dr. William J. Stickel, Executive Secretary of the National Association of Chiropodists, said in a statement:

"Feet, as we know them today, are on their way out."

At the end of 10,000 years, he says, the little toe will be completely gone. The other toes will be so retarded that the foot will look more like a hoof.

Shoes—and what some comic has laughingly called progress—are to blame.

As long as man used his toes to clamber up a tree, as long as he walked barefoot through the mud and let it squiggle up between his toes, as long as he "toed the mark" or "got a toehold—for that long, I say, there was some point in being a toe. And toes were happy.

And then, shoes. Toes were caged. Discontented, they allowed nails to grow in and bunions to grow out.

Go to any beach and try to get to the foot of the problem.

For every 1,000 lovely faces, or figures, or nicely shaped ears, it's difficult to locate one pair of decent feet.

And things aren't going to get any better.

"The shoes," says Dr. Stickel, "will be primarily responsible for the deterioration of the foot."

Still, we may as well make the best of it. Dr. Stickel has a few suggestions for national foot health week, starting Saturday:

1. Bathe and powder feet daily.
2. Massage feet before retiring.
3. Cut nails straight across, not round as on the fingers.
4. Wear the right kind of shoes and be sure they fit.
5. Have your children's feet and shoes examined regularly. It may prevent serious foot ailments later.

"Will this be a toe-saver, Doc?"

"I have studied the problem carefully," said Dr. Stickel, "and have decided there is nothing rational the chiropodist can do to arrest evolution."

SOLDIER SPURNS 'SPY' WIFE

Sister Defends GI Accused of Desertion

WASHINGTON, May 17—(AP)—The sister of the young American soldier alleged to have gone AWOL in Russia for love of a Russian female spy came to his defense Monday.

And the family of the other U. S. soldier to whom the woman was married said he didn't know she was a spy, as the State Department reported. Anyhow, his family said, he had already taken steps to get a separation from her.

The State Department announced Sunday that Sgt. James M. McMillin, 21 of Boulder, Colo., defied orders to leave Russia because he was in love with a Russian married woman described as an experienced Soviet agent.

The woman, identified as Mrs. Galina Dunaeva Biconish, fanned the youth's love because the Russian Government told her to, the State Department indicated.

Monday it was learned:

1. Her husband, Sgt. John Biconish, 23, serving with the enlisted student detachment of the Army Ground General School at Fort Riley, Kan., didn't know she was a spy, hasn't seen her since 1946, and had started separation proceedings.

2. Young McMillin's father is an Army Colonel, Col. James M. McMillin, stationed at the Huntsville Arsenal, Alabama.

3. The young Sergeant's sister, Miss Patricia McMillin, 19, a sophomore at Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Mass., said she didn't believe her brother had deserted.

Biconish's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Biconish, of Binghamton, N. Y., told of the separation plans Monday. They said their son had told them of it last March.

He was asking for separation because he felt his wife would "never be permitted to leave Russia."

The State Department made the announcement of the incident in an unusual news conference Sunday night in order to forestall Russia breaking the story first and capitalizing on it as propaganda.

ALL-SOUTHERN BLUEBLOODS

Atlanta-Crowned Felines Posed for National Title

Six sleek Atlanta bluebloods are in the running for the most coveted title in feline circles—1948 Cat of the Year.

Pedigreed show cats, already wearing 1948 All-Southern crowns, are being considered by a national board of judges who will choose a roster of All-American Cats late this Summer.

Cats Magazine, of Utica, N. Y., Monday revealed names of Atlanta felines in the catty set's "Who's Who" as follows:

Casanova of Atlanta, red Peke Persian male, owned by Mrs. Paul Miller, of 550 Broyles St., S. E.; Monolith's Sophisticated, shaded silver Persian male, owned by Mrs. E. C. Shearin, of 973 Austin Ave., N. E.; Garvinia's Kilroy, red male Persian, and Garvinia's Trisha, red tabby peke Persian female, both owned by Mrs. W. H. Garvin, of 966 Austin Ave., N. E., and Sweetie Pie, domestic shorthair male, and Champion Blackie Boy, black domestic shorthair male, both owned by Miss Edith Griffin, of 1053 Boulevard Dr., Southeast.

Souvenir Printers Conley War-Baby

By BILL BORING
Constitution Roving Reporter

CONLEY—If you go souvenir-shopping in New York City, seeking something to help you remember the big town, one of the eye-catchingest items in the shops is a gaily-printed cotton napkin.

On the corners of the napkin are printed pictures of New York points of interest—the Empire State Building, the Statue of Liberty, the George Washington Bridge.

That napkin was not manufactured in New York City, but in Conley. And so were the souvenir napkins in the shops of New Orleans, with the steamboat on the Mississippi, the bandannaed mammy, the Mardi Gras parade. So were the seashore and flamingo printed napkins you buy in shops in Miami.

You can drop into most any tourist spot in the United States—the Great Smokies and the Yellowstone National Park, Reno and Hollywood, the Maine and the Oregon country—and you'll find souvenirs that were manufactured in Conley.

Out in the wild and wooly West, where steer riders in the rodeos and the lone rangers of the plains like to decorate their necks in colorful silk bandanna handkerchiefs, they know Conley well for the neckerchiefs they wear are "Conley made."

They are processed in the handicraft shop of Holmes, Inc., which is headed by Mrs. Edith Holmes, the postmaster here. The women who fashion these cotton and silk products are former cotton pickers. They are Negroes who wear colorful bandannas, too, but about their heads.

Holmes, Inc., is one of the country's few industries having acquired the technique of art printing on silk. For this reason it has about cornered the bandanna market of the cowboy country.

Different ranches in Texas, Oklahoma, Arizona and California send in orders daily for bandannas with the special designs of the particular ranch printed on. The designs are copied by Artist Nellie Cregger, transmitted to a form and then printed on the silken bandannas by the Negro craftswomen.

Holmes, Inc., employs 25 women and has distributors in New York City, Dallas and other large cities. Besides souvenir cotton and silk goods and the bandanna and handkerchief items, the concern produces hand-made dolls, curtains, tablecloths and other home furnishings.

The organization has an interesting history. Back in the war years, the building it now occupies was an abandoned night club. As the Quartermaster Army Depot began to swing into operation at Conley, thousands of GI wives came to this vicinity to be near their husbands.

The majority of them, of course, were the wives of privates whose incomes were anything but fabulous. The young couples who had acquired homes dotted over the Conley countryside were experiencing difficulty making ends meet.

Mrs. Holmes, who was running the post office would hear their distressful stories. Wives facing the dilemma of having to return home to mother and dad unless they could find something to do.

Out of the discussions between the Army wives and Mrs. Holmes, the idea of making dolls evolved. Mrs. Holmes acquired the vacant night club and set up an art handicraft shop, staffed by war brides. It grew into the nationally-known business it is today. When the war brides left, Mrs. Holmes began employing Negro women. She says they are highly skilled in arteraft.

UN Atomists Give Up On World Curbs

LAKE SUCCESS, May 17—(AP) The United Nations Atomic Energy Commission suspended Monday all attempts to agree on world atomic control.

It was the first major UN organ to acknowledge failure because of the Russian-Western power impasse.

The vote to stop work now was 9 to 2.

The United States, France, China, Britain, Argentina, Belgium, Syria, Canada, and Colombia voted for the suspension. They want fresh orders from the 58-nation Assembly this Fall.

Russia and the Soviet Ukraine opposed suspension. They want the Commission to continue negotiations.

Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, blasted again at the United States just before the vote. He said the U. S. Government does not want atomic control.

FRESH BLOOD A MUST FOR FREE ENERGY

Do you feel like you are tied to a drag everytime you try to do something? If so, don't let a low blood count hold you down when you may release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effectiv in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Taft Joins Opposition To Public Works Now

WASHINGTON, May 17—(AP)—Sen. Taft, Republican, Ohio, told the Senate Monday there is no justification for increasing public works construction now.

Taft joined in a Senate fight to cut $200,000,000 from a record $640,253,000 appropriation bill for flood control and rivers and harbors work during the year beginning July 1.

Of the total in the Senate bill about $25,000,000 is earmarked for waterways projects in Georgia. The Division Office here for the South Atlantic Division of the Corps of Engineers says they have no word from Washington as to how the proposed cuts will affect the Georgia projects.

"From an over-all economic standpoint," Taft said, "there is no justification for increasing public works construction at a time when private construction activity is high."

Increased public construction now, he said, would result in competition with private industry for labor and materials and raise costs.

Sen. Reed, Republican, Kansas, one of the three Appropriations Committee members seeking the $200,000,000 reduction, moved to return the bill to Committee for that purpose.

Reed said that if the motion is approved by the Senate the Army Engineers would be instructed to reapportion the remaining $440,253,000 among projects selected on the basis of:

(1) Urgency, (2) long-range importance, (3) projects which can be completed with reasonable appropriation, and (4) projects where the State or municipality bears a portion of the expense.

Sens. Wherry, Republican, Nebraska, and Cordon, Republican, Oregon, termed the $200,000,000 cutback proposal "arbitrary."

Millionaire Is Robbed Of $124,000

LE MARS, Iowa, May 17—(UP) Herman Schultz's faith in human nature, which led him to begin giving away most of his more than $1,000,000 fortune, took a jolt when he lost $124,300 to thieves, authorities disclosed Monday.

Herman Schultz

The 75-year-old Le Mars bachelor told Plymouth County Sheriff Frank Scholer that a safe containing the money was taken from the dining room of his unpretentious home, apparently while he was playing cards at a soft drink parlor Saturday night.

He said most of the money was in $500 and $1,000 bills. Another safe in the same room, containing $86,000, was not taken.

Schultz did not explain why he kept the money in his home, or what proportion of his cash holdings it represented. But he deposited the $86,000 in a Le Mars bank Monday.

Agents from the State Bureau of Criminal Investigation and the FBI arrived Monday to help county authorities investigate the theft. Scholer said the thieves apparently left no clues.

"But I am now convinced the safe was stolen as Schultz reported," he said.

Schultz said he didn't notice the safe was missing until he went into his dining room Sunday morning to get a new suit to wear to church. He reported the theft at once, but authorities did not disclose it until Monday.

"Of course I'm upset, but this hasn't soured me," Schultz said. "I don't know whether this had anything to do with my plan to give away my farms."

He said he had planned to give away the money along with 42 farms valued at $1,000,000 which he acquired during a lifetime of thrift. He announced several weeks ago he was giving the farms to relatives to avoid "wasteful" inheritance taxes and to make sure his holdings would go "where they will do the most good."

Court 'Saves' Savannah Beach Administration

The City Administration of Savannah Beach, scheduled to have gone out of office last month, was saved by a State Supreme Court decision Monday.

The court ruled that the old administration must continue in office until 1950 (unless the next Legislature authorizes a special election) since the regular election scheduled in April was not held because of a dispute over a 1947 act.

The 1947 law limiting voting to residents of the resort town also was nullified by the Court. Like virtually all other local acts, this bill failed to include proof of proper advertising in the enrolled copy of the law. This act would have disqualified half the former voters of Savannah Beach. Previously, Chatham County residents who owned property on the island could vote and hold office.

Woman Teacher Slain on Road

LAKE ALFRED, Fla., May 17—(AP)—A Winter Haven high school teacher was shot to death Monday and Polk County officers were searching for a hitchhiker accused by her husband of the killing.

Deputy Sheriff Hagan Parrish said DeWitt Rollins, a former Winter Haven city judge, related that he and Mrs. Rollins picked up a slender white man about midnight while en route from Groveland to their Winter Haven home.

As they neared Lake Alfred the hitchhiker demanded money. Rollins said he heard a shot and about the same time felt a blow on the head.

Rollins regained consciousness about an hour later to find his wife dead and the contents of her purse scattered about the car and the roadside.

Who Knows the Answers?

Acting Gov. Thompson has denied Would-be Gov. Talmadge's accusation that he has been receiving made-to-order rulings from Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook.

Mr. Talmadge, who readily accepted the Attorney General's ruling on the Soldier Vote law, allowing a later primary, has taken exception to two recent decisions of the Attorney General, namely:

That the Governor elected this Fall will be ineligible to succeed himself, and

That the law prohibiting the letting of road contracts in the last three months of a Governor's term does not apply in the present instance.

In the latter case Mr. Cook may have interpreted the law correctly, but we agree with Mr. Talmadge that it is far from logical to allow an Acting Governor privileges which a Governor is denied. Indeed, there is less necessity for safeguarding highway funds against a Governor, who is prevented from seeking re-election, than from an acting governor who is subjected to all the heat and pressure of a campaign while in office. Thus, if the law is indeed as the Attorney General construes it, then certainly it should be changed.

Anyhow, it seems to us the question currently is one which should be determined by the courts rather than the Attorney General. The same is true on the issue of the eligibility of the man elected in November to succeed himself as well as the date of his inauguration.

We shuddered on Sunday, reading Mr. Talmadge's declaration that, if elected, he thinks the Legislature should immediately convene itself for the purpose of inaugurating him. Quite conceivably out of such action could come another two-Governor debacle to bring us shame and notoriety around the world.

To insure we will not have a recurrence of last year's fiasco, we would like to see a declaratory judgment, one which all parties would agree in advance to accept in good faith, on the questions:

1. When shall the next Governor be inaugurated,

2. Shall the Governor elected in November be eligible to stand for re-election in 1950, and

3. Does the prohibition against the letting of road contracts in the last 90 days of a Governor's term apply to an Acting Governor?

These are vital questions, highly controversial. Unfortunately, in every instance, the law is vague if not contradictory.

Unless there is an authoritative ruling from a source whose impartiality is recognized, the State may well again be plunged into a comic-opera dispute over the Governor's chair.

Our Thanks to Those Who Participated

The Constitution has been receiving congratulations on the Sixth Annual Greater Atlanta Music Festival, which filled the stadium at Grant Field Saturday night.

But ours was only the pleasure of sponsoring it.

The real credit for the magnificent production goes to the officials and teachers of the City and County schools, the masters and members of the participating bands, and the 1,300 students who took part. It was a splendid show and The Constitution and WCON, which joined in the promotion, are grateful to those who contributed so generously to its success.

Social Security Threatened

Recently the House of Representatives slashed the appropriations request of the Social Security Administration in a manner most severe. The staff was reduced by two thirds, and the sum needed for grants to the various states for the United States Employment Service, now state directed, and for employment insurance was cut by $22,000,000.

While the economies are questionable in the light of their severity, even worse was the legislation which reorganizes the administration of Social Security and threatens, in our opinion, to upset the balanced development of the Social Security program in this country.

The bill will divide the nation's Social Security program into four separate and unrelated offices, or divisions. It will compel each to compete with the other for funds and for congressional assistance. It means four competing pressure groups. It makes impossible any overall direction of the program. It destroys the possibility of coordinated and effective direction.

The Social Security Administration has been free from controversy and politics. It has a splendid reputation for nonpolitical and efficient administration. It admittedly has developed an integrated program. We do not mean to say that improvement cannot be made. But we urge all interested citizens to write their Senators with the hope that the House bill may be corrected in the Senate to the end that integrated direction and effort may be maintained.

Did Truman Bungle Peace Talk Proposal?

WASHINGTON—Not being too familiar with the intricacies of American foreign policy or the diplomatic processes through which such policies are executed, it will be difficult for the average person to understand the rather pre-emptory way the administration has apparently dismissed the overtures coming from Moscow for a settlement of our differences with the Russians. To put the situation in its proper perspective, it is necessary to consider the basic facts in the case as they have developed.

First, the American Ambassador in Moscow, Gen. Bedell Smith, presented Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov with a memorandum or note, previously prepared by the State Department and carefully reviewed by the White House, which sought clearly to define the aims of our foreign policy.

The note included a statement to the effect that the United States is seeking "a path for restoring good and rational relations between our two countries, together with a radical mitigation of the complications which at the present time is having such an unfavorable effect on international relations."

In addition, there was this significant paragraph: "As for the United States, the door always remains open for discussion and settlement of our differences."

It is not difficult to see where the Russians might easily have construed this as an invitation to sit down with them and make a further attempt to adjust our differences.

The next step was for the Russians to make the correspondence public, together with their reply, including the following interesting statement by Mr. Molotov:

"The Soviet Government adopts a positive attitude toward the wishes of the United States Government as expressed with the proposal to begin, in this connection, a discussion and settlement of differences existing between us."

From the way the information was put out in Moscow, there was every surface indication of a willingness on the part of the Russians to sit down with us and work out our differences. The broadcast of the diplomatic exchange was made without rancor or criticism. It was given as a simple factual report and apparently aroused great enthusiasm among the Russian people.

Subsequently President Truman issued a statement from the White House confirming the note, but saying that it was not intended as a bid for further talks with the Russians.

And then on the following day Secretary of State Marshall made a statement in which he tended to throw further cold water on the idea of a United States-Russian "peace" conference. He suggested that any action toward settling our disputes be taken through the United Nations Organization, rather than a meeting between representatives of the two countries.

We do not know yet what the final reaction of the Russians will be to these repulses. We may not have full evidence yet of their sincerity in the apparent acceptance they gave to the proposal of Ambassador Smith.

It may be, as some people suspect, that the Russians were merely using this course to lead us on and perhaps defeat the program we have embarked upon for European recovery and national defense.

But the administration's conduct is open to question, it seems, on the score of not exploring the matter more fully before dampening the ardor of any peace moves that might be coming from Moscow.

The Russians, we have long since learned, are a peculiar and suspicious people. They do not always react the way we do about everything.

The least we could have done under the circumstances, it would appear, is to have given them full opportunity to prove themselves before questioning their motives.

One of the worst possible consequences of the administration's handling of the affair is that it tends to give Henry Wallace a talking point in the challenge he has raised to American foreign policy. He will now begin to go out and create a doubt in the minds of a lot of people as to the peaceful intentions of the administration.

Close Down Savannah Branch

(Sparta Ishmaelite)

News reports of another scandal at the University of Georgia's branch at Hunter Field, in Savannah, further makes us sure that this place should be closed at the end of this year's session in June. This institution has served its purpose in relieving some of the congestion in Athens and should now be abolished. Of course, Savannah objects, but that is quite natural.

RALPH McGILL

Steer Clear Of Bourbon County

All of a sudden I began to get letters, some very flattering, which wound up with a request to know which statesman uttered the deathless line:

"Steer clear of Bourbon County."

At first I thought there was some mistake and they were quoting some prohibitionist who had said, "Steer clear of bourbon and stick to Scotch," or something like that. But, as the letters kept coming I determined the query really was, "Who said, 'Steer clear of Bourbon County' "?

One letter revealed the reason for all this sudden thirst for knowledge. It was asked on one of the innumerable radio quizzes, which I do not know.

Failure Always one to try and lend a hand, I try to dredge up from my own memory some glimmer about it. But failed. I asked my compatriots. None had heard.

Obviously, it has some reference to Kentucky, which has a Bourbon County. This, however, is an assumption which may be in error. I never heard of a Bourbon County save in Kentucky.

So, I wrote the esteemed Courier-Journal, which courteously searched libraries, books and the memories of old citizens without success.

Bourbon Had Irvin S. Cobb been still alive I would have asked him. He once wrote a treatise on bourbon whiskey to the effect that the only real bourbon came from Bourbon County because only there were found, in proper proportion, the true ingredients of bourbon—lime water from limestone springs, and corn and grain grown on limestone soil.

It may have been a visitor to Bourbon County who, departing with a terrific hangover, had mumbled:

"Steer clear of Bourbon County."

Ridge-Runners I then thought of the best columnist on local affairs in the country, Mr. Allan Trout, of the Frankfort Bureau of the Courier-Journal. Mr. Trout answers all questions such as, "Why does a hound dog run with his hind end slewed to one side?" and "How high is knee-high to a duck?" through the aid of his barnyard scientists and ridge-runners.

I appealed to Mr. Trout. Herewith is his answer:

"Re your query: What statesman said, 'Steer clear of Bourbon County'?

"As a Tennessean in Kentucky, I am astounded at you, a Tennessean in Georgia. If Georgians who are sticking it out in Georgia do not know the answer to your learned question, why did you expect light from such Georgians-transplanted-to-Kentucky as Mark Ethridge, James Pope, Tarleton Collier and George Burt?

"I got in touch with a few of my ridge-runners here in Frankfort. They report an investigation in progress, with fair-to-middling results to date. But, my ridge-runners added, be durned if they are going to send hard-won clues to Georgia; if a radio fortune is to be made from answering a smart aleck question, they aim to keep the money here in Kentucky where it is needed."

So, that ends that part of the search.

Danger I don't like to get mixed up in radio fortune hunts. I was bedeviled by queries about "Miss Hush" and "The Walking Man." I had never heard the clues and couldn't help. But I never would give advice anyhow, because the recipient of a bad one would never cease being aggrieved.

If I were interested in this one, however, I would look into the life of Cassius Clay and his fights with Henry Clay. Cassius is one of the most remarkable of our figures, although overshadowed by the great Henry. He became an abolitionist at Yale and came home to oppose the Southern position. He was fearless, fighting duels with bowie knives, swords and guns. He served as our ambassador to Russia and led a life colorful enough for a half-dozen romantic novels. He was always sneering at his cousin, Henry.

Anyhow, I don't know who said, "Steer clear of Bourbon County."

You Can Observe Odd Characters

Atlanta's traffic problems, with especial emphasis upon the difficulty of finding a convenient place to park the car after you do drive to town, became very personal with me.

My doctor advised against using street cars or busses. Advanced three arguments: First, rough riding. (It is on the old trolleys of the North Decatur line, anyway.) Second, high step to climb in by. Third, "Someday you'll forget another bus is coming and run to catch one—which could be mighty serious for you."

So, for years I had been driving the car to and from work every day. For years a regular monthly fee to a parking garage near my office. Then progress intruded and that parking garage was closed. Another nearby one refuses to accept me as patron except on day-to-day basis. And two out of three days that place is full and I can't get in.

There is a good place, where they will take care of my car, pleasantly, but it is more than five blocks from the office and I just can't walk that distance, twice daily.

The Trolley Bus So, nowadays, I've become a transit patron once again. Have found a trolley bus which carries me two blocks from the office. I drive each day to the end of that line, park my car, lock it, and board the bus. I find the ride to town quite comfortable.

Homeward, the car is waiting when I get off the trolley. The only trouble is that usually I have to park it in the sun and it rivals a baking oven inside when I open the door in the late afternoon. Sometimes I have to wait for a breeze to blow through the opened windows to cool the steering wheel sufficiently to touch it.

But I have solved my uptown parking problem. And look at the money saved! Parking fees, gasoline, tire wear, etc., etc. To say nothing of the wear on nerves and temper driving through traffic and going round and round the block trying to get into a parking place.

Interesting, Too The journeys on the bus are interesting, too. You do see the most fascinating characters. (Not, mind you, that odd characters are in any greater proportion among transit patrons. You see 'em anywhere, under any circumstances. But, riding a bus, you have time to study 'em.)

There was, for instance, the guy who sat behind me the other afternoon and sang, all the way home. It was some sort of religious chant, or recitative, I believe. He kept his voice low, so it was audible only to those in nearby seats. But my ear was closest of all.

Some of the time he didn't seem to be using words at all. Just a melodic "la la, do re mi." He kept repeating, though, a baritone "Praise the Lord." I thought perhaps he was rehearsing for some song service. Could be a Jewish cantor, I thought.

There was the girl with gold sandals, handbag, belt and hair ornament, and with fingernails and toenails likewise gilded. The young sailor in his whites carrying his active, squirming baby boy. The two men who told each other how they won many verbal battles with rivals and bosses.

The heavy-set college student—judging by the books he carries—who changes his seat six or eight times on an outbound trip, as seats become vacant. Many others. Believe me, it is interesting.

And the best solution I've found for the traffic-parking problems.

ALTAR STAIRS — By John Marvin Rast

My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God.—Psalm 84:2.

So restless our souls seem at times that we wonder if we are divinely destined for peace. Ruskin in his "Modern Painters" would have us find peace in the simple situations and processes of life, such as in growing corn, in drawing hard breath over ploughshare or spade, in books, in thought, in love, in hope, in prayer. Ever and anon, he suggests, some wearied king or tormented slave has found where the true kingdoms of the world are, and has possessed himself in a small plot of garden ground, of an infinite dominion. Truly God is not cabined or confined. If we really hunger and thirst for Him, He will draw nigh, wherever we are, whatever our condition.

Open our eyes to behold Thee, Father, in daily toil, in rest, in patient waiting. May we not miss Thy nearer presence in seeking Thee afar.

Even Russians Deserve Better . . .

The Soviet Supreme Court has ruled that Russian wives can sue their husbands for alimony and div ision of property without suing for divorce.

Russia is the land where all men are equal . . . but not women.

The female of the species is more unreasonable than the male. This was never more clearly demonstrated than by this court ruling that men can be made to bear all the expenses of divorce . . . without any of the benefits.

If a woman is going to take a man's alimony, the least she can do is give him his name back.

Talk about man's inhumanity to man. . . . What about woman's?

Small wonder that from every side in Russia, one can hear the down-trodden male declare: "Things will be different, Comrade . . . come the Revolution!"

$9 Dinner

Editor Constitution: Europe is begging for American dollars, yet same article says dinner in France costs $9 and a room in a "modest" hotel about the same. . . . UN French girls with salaries that sounded fabulous at home find the money doesn't go far in New York.

A dinner fit for a king can be had in Gainesville, Ga., for 50c. Inquire when you are really hungry.

Alto, Ga. FRANCIS L. BAILEY.

Won't Go Far

Editor Constitution: I just received circular claiming to be a call to the foundation of a new party and calling it a People's Party. This, of course, don't mean a thing but a "Wallace Party."

It makes a lot of not only absurd but ridiculous claims against the Democratic Party and the present Administration that surely won't fool very many that are intelligent enough to vote.

They claim the Party is being dominated by money interests and so on, which no one but an office-seeker or his henchmen would think of.

I don't think this thing will get far in this State. People are too well satisfied with the party we have and are, and should be, satisfied to let well enough alone.

I am signing my name definite enough so that anyone who likes or dislikes what I say can contact me.

Lebanon. W. M. COX.

Who's Right?

Editor Constitution: In your paper of May 13, "Primary Date Unchanged by Court Ruling." Well, let me say that decision really showed up Gene Cook in his ruling sometime back that the soldier vote law is no longer in effect. It's easy for all to see now that Gene has already been named M. E.'s campaign manager. His ruling is wrong or State Supreme Court's ruling is wrong. Who is right? JOHN JACKSON.

Preston, Ga.

Why?

Editor Constitution: As a veteran of both the World Wars, overseas and in combat, I don't think I will be judged too severely for writing a few questions that I think should be answered by someone.

Our Government loans Government money (the people's money) to countries known to be unfriendly to us, to preserve these countries, to keep these countries from dying from starvation and poverty.

Our country then allow the Governments of these countries to bring our Government money back over here and spend several million dollars with private enterprises, buying mansions, over here, in which they may live, right in the middle of our goings on.

Our Government sells to its private enterprises property that costs us from $25,000 to $75,000 per item for from $250 to $500 per item. These foreign countries then bring money we have loaned them back over here and pay these private enterprises thousands of dollars for these items. Eighty percent of what I call items is war material, such as we use in our bombers and fighters. Those hungry Russian couldn't possibly eat an 18-cylinder Pratt & Whitney airplane engine and I don't believe they would swap it to England for food.

Atlanta. J. W. MASHBURN.

Engineers' Earnings

Editor Constitution: Just a line to let you know that all engineers are not ghouls who would bite the hand that feeds them. I make well over $6,000 per year and make a round trip every other day between Atlanta and Chattanooga. No engineer works seven days a week, as implied in a certain letter to you, for only $3,300 per annum.

Here's at least one who is willing to deliver for value received.

Atlanta. AN ENGINEER.

Seven Days a Week

Editor Constitution: On the editorial page recently there was an editorial giving the salaries of engineers and firemen. In this article, as well as others in the past, there was NO MENTION of the fact that it requires seven days a week, 358 days in the year, to make this amount of money. Neither was the fact mentioned that there is no overtime paid for Sundays and holidays. And until about three or four years ago there was no vacation with pay. That, now, is only seven days, which is a very short vacation for the amount of hard work they have to do.

I am speaking mainly from the switchman's side and those working in the yards, but their working conditions are the same to a great extent, other than the switchman has more of the rain, wind, cold and heat to face.

Of all the people I come in contact with from day to day there are few who know the above facts. Most of them think these men have a five-day working week, as do most other employees. I know of no reason why they should not be better informed and I know of no better way than the newspaper. So that is my reason for writing you.

Marietta. MRS. LUCILLE MORRIS.

Highway Reform

Editor Constitution: Your editorial, "The Need for Highway Reform," is to be commended. Doubtless the removal of the State Highway Department from domination by the Governor is the top needed reform in Georgia today. A Legislature and Governor should be elected to bring this about. When this is done this department will not be used by the Governor as a political machine, and with the proper changes made, the State should have better roads.

My suggestion is for the State to be divided into highway districts, a district being composed of two congressional districts, making five districts for the State. Have one board member for each district. Let the voters of each district elect the board member from the district, not elected by the Legislature as some propose, nor let the Governor have anything to do with appointing members. Why not trust voters to elect Highway Board members same as other important State officials?

Another law Georgia needs enacted is a State "Hatch Act" similar to our Federal law so State employees will be barred from acting as tools for their employers. JOHN W. GOOLSBY.

Washington, Ga.

HAROLD MARTIN

A Dream and a Nightmare

"Peace," she said. "It's wonderful. Just listen to that silence."

I listened. There wasn't a sound from the house except the muted playing of the radios. No squabbling. No fussing. No yelling "Maamaeee, he's swiped all of my tablet paper again and I wish you'd make him quit bothering my things."

It was the moment we had dreamed of all these years, the time when each young'un would have a room of his own, where he could keep his own gear, pursue his own way, unmolested by a roommate of differing years and tastes who irked him.

"You know," she said, "I feel as if the weight of the world was off my shoulders. You know how it was when the boys were sleeping in the dining room. There were no closets and they had nowhere to keep their things. It was always a battle when Skip wanted to read and Johnny wanted the light out so he could sleep. Now they can keep their things properly stowed away, which will be a blessed relief to me, and each will be responsible for keeping his own room neat. None of this business of finding one of them's baseball bat on the floor, and having him bellow that the other one threw it there when you snatch him up to spank him. I have told all of them that they are responsible for what goes on in their room. It is their castle. If they don't want the others visiting, they don't have to have them.

"It was even worse back in the girls' room. There is so much difference in their ages. Nancy couldn't go to sleep until Marian quit studying, and Marian couldn't keep anything nice because Nancy was always rummaging among her things." She breathed a great sigh of sheer content, watching the lightning bugs glowing in the blue dark of the back yard.

"It is indeed wonderful," I said. "In fact, I am going to make the rounds and observe the miracle. Then I am going to bed, even if it's only 9 o'clock. Lugging all those beds and bureaus and toy boxes and assorted junk upstairs has worn me out. I'm going to get a good night's sleep."

"Me too," she said. "I'll come with you."

We went to the back room first and stuck our heads in the door. Nancy was in her bed in her pajamas, cutting out paper dolls.

It's mine," she said. "My bed and my chester drawers, and my mirror an' my bed lamp. It's my room all by myself."

"All by yourself," we said. "You can turn out the light and go to sleep whenever you want to."

We went upstairs. The doors were shut, and behind them we could hear the radios softly playing. We opened the door at the head of the stairs. The oldest boy looked up in indignation. "Get outa here," he said. Then he saw who it was. "Oh," he said. "I thought you were Johnny. I was just waiting for him to come in so I could throw him out."

"He doesn't want to come in," I said. "He has his own room the same as you. And you mustn't go prowling around in his room. Turn off your radio and turn out your light and go to sleep."

"O. K." he said.

We inspected the others. Each lay in bed in lonely state, reading.

"How do you like having a room all to yourself?" we asked.

"It's wonderful," they said.

"We thought you'd like it," we said, beaming. "Now turn off your lights and go to sleep. It's bedtime."

We went back downstairs and I went out on the terrace to get the chair cushions so they wouldn't get rained on. All the lights were out upstairs. A low voice spoke from a window.

"Daddeee," it whispered.

"What?" I said.

"Please don't go inside yet. Stay out there and talk so I can hear you until I go to sleep. It feels funny, sleeping all by myself in a new room."

"Don't be silly, Marian," I said sternly. Then I happened to think of a long time ago . . . and sleeping for the first time in a room alone. "All right," I said. "We'll sit out here until you get to sleep. But just for tonight, remember. . . ."

"Thanks," she said.

For a half an hour there was no more sound. Finally, we went in. The house was dark and soundless.

I was just dropping off when I heard a door open upstairs and a small voice come over the stair rail.

"Hey, down there," it said.

"What do you want, Johnny?" I said, struggling back from the edge of sleep.

"I want somebody to come sleep with me. There's somep'n in my room. It goes pop."

"It's just the new floor," I said. "New floors always go pop."

"I don't like it," he said. "Somebody's gotta come sleep with me."

About that time, from the darkness of the back room, another small voice chirped up.

"Somebody come sleep with me, too," it said. Nancy, being young and unashamed, was frank. "I want somebody to come sleep with me 'cause I'm scared. If I sleep by myself I can't hear anybody breathe."

"Go to sleep," I said.

"No," she said. "I'm not gonna try to go to sleep until somebody comes sleeps with me."

"What do we do now?" I whispered. "We mortgage our souls, practically, to get them separated, and now they won't sleep separately because they are scared."

"Play for time," she said. "Answer them every time they call and talk to them. Tell them a story. Anything to keep them in bed and lying down. Pretty soon they will get so sleepy they'll drop off."

Well, it took a long time, but it worked. Their calls grew drowsy and more faint and finally ceased all together. I looked at the clock. The hands stood at a quarter of 1. Sleep dropped its blessed curtain. . . .

It must have been about 3 o'clock when I woke up, conscious of a knee prodding me in the small of my back and a fat arm thrown across my face. The faint smell of paint told me it was Johnny. I looked over toward the other bed. Mama was all scrooched up against the wall. A small girl and her doll occupied the center of the bed and the greater part of the pillow. She slept with a seraphic smile of great content. . . .

Oh, well, I guess those two bright new rooms won't go to waste. We can always rent 'em.

GALLUP POLL

Tags Mean Little to Voters

PRINCETON, N. J.—Comparatively few voters in the United States have made up their minds as to whether such candidates as Harold E. Stassen, Arthur H. Vandenberg, Joseph E. Martin and Robert A. Taft are conservatives or liberals—terms which, of course, mean different things to different people.

But among the voters who have formed a judgment on the subject, the weight of opinion is that Taft, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, and Martin are conservatives along with such men as Sen. Harry E. Byrd, Democrat of Virginia, Gen. Douglas MacArthur and, to a lesser extent, Sen. Vandenberg.

President Truman, Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of State George Marshall and Stassen are tagged by more voters as liberals than as conservatives.

These attitudes are brought to light in a coast-to-coast survey designed to test the public's own ideas about the conservative-liberal split in American politics. Each voter was asked to tell in his own words what he considers a conservative in politics and a liberal. All voters were then asked: "Do you consider the following men to be liberal or conservative in their political views?"

The list follows:

	Lib.	Cons.	No opin.
Henry Wallace	41%	5%	54%
Harry Truman	36	25	39
Geo. Marshall	30	22	48
Harold Stassen	21	19	60
A. Vandenberg	20	26	65
Doug M'Arthur	16	38	46
Thomas Dewey	15	37	48
Earl Warren	13	14	73
Robert Taft	9	40	51
Joseph Martin	8	22	70
L. Saltonstall	6	12	82
Harry Byrd	5	18	77

Perhaps the outstanding thing about the above vote is the large percentage of people who, in most cases, are undecided. The names liberal and conservative are terms which apparently have comparatively little meaning to the great bulk of the American voters.

THE QUESTION:

Do you approve Georgia's changing her marriage laws to require a three-day waiting period?

THE ANSWERS:

FRANK BASKIN, JR., 309 Lyle Ave., College Park, Ga., appliance serviceman — I don't think I would care whether they did or not. When I was married, it happened just like that — all at once. It would kind of depend on what the waiting was for. If it were for a medical or mental examination, I would approve of it. Otherwise, I'd be in favor of leaving it like it is.

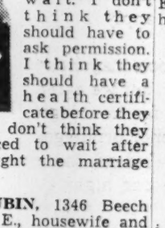

DENVER HOGUE, 133 Tenth St., N. E., railway postal clerk—I think it's a very good idea. I know of several States which have it. It prevents on-the spot or quick marriages. Some people get drunk and go out and get married. That would stop that. Some States require physical examinations — a certificate showing they are physically fit to be married. I don't know whether this State has it or not.

MRS. H. J. HATTAWAY, 800 Piedmont Ave., N. E., textile worker—Yes, I do—simply because a lot of them get married before they're old enough. They tell a story about their ages. There are a lot of separations caused by hasty marriage. I think people should know each other at least a year—and then, they don't know each other. I think it's a good idea to have medical examinations.

BETTY GOSSETT, 922 Pulliam St., S. W., student—I think couples should be allowed to get married when they want to. I don't think they should have to wait. I don't think they should have to ask permission. I think they should have a health certificate before they get married. I don't think they should be forced to wait after they have bought the marriage license.

MRS. E. RUBIN, 1346 Beech Valley Rd., N. E., housewife and mother—Definitely. I think they should have a three-day waiting period. I also think the State should require physical examination. The high divorce rate is often due to hasty marriages. Premarital physical examinations would eliminate many physical defects in children born of such marriages. A three-day waiting period would eliminate much unhappiness for the family as well as the couple.

GEORGE R. IVEY, JR., 521 Grant St., S. E., letter carrier—I believe it should be. There are still some of the wartime infatuations — by that I mean, a serviceman will meet a girl one week; they think they're in love; he'll talk her into getting married. In two of the five cases I've known of in the last three weeks, the couples are already wanting divorces.

MRS. J. H. GAZAWAY, 534 English Ave., N. W., fulltime housewife — I know when I was in Detroit, visiting my daddy, the papers carried the names of prospective brides and grooms for five days before they were allowed to get married. I forget what the idea was. I know, I ran away and got married. If my intentions had been published, my mother might have stopped my wedding — but I'm not sorry that she didn't get to.

WESTBROOK PEGLER

The Herald-Tribune's 'Republican Front'

To date in my revelations of political influences at work behind the bland, Republican front of the New York Herald Tribune I have stayed up on my toes, boxed them fancy and used the ring. Now we stand flat-footed. This is not repartee. This is serious.

Last Tuesday night in Madison Square Garden a preliminary speaker, warming up the Communist crowd for Henry Wallace, incited a riot at the Roxy Theater, close by, where a film was showing called "The Iron Curtain." This is an anti-Communist film. It is belated and insufficient by far to redress the record of calculated assistance over many years.

The riot against the film had been advertised in advance by the Communists so frankly that the New York police were on the alert.

The preliminary speaker at the Garden was a notorious thief and slacker, a nimble opportunist in religious matters and a preacher of the Communist policies and program. He is known by the alias of William S. Gailmor. His original name was William Margolis. He changed to Gailmor after he had been caught stealing automobiles in New York. He has a record in the FBI, which appends to his criminal history a summary of his work in the field of Communist activity.

Gailmor, or Margolis, first came to notice as a self-acknowledged "famous" commentator in 1941. By 1944 he was making propaganda in a local radius around New York for Roosevelt and the fourth term. The investigation was difficult and I was unable to denounce him until after election. I then presented his criminal, and psychiatric, history to Ed Noble, the President of the old Blue Network, a New Dealer who did very well by himself in the radio business. Noble called in his "personnel" chief, who produced a pedigree filled in by Gailmor. In the space slugged "religion," the answer was "none."

About 24 hours later, learning that he was discovered, Gailmor confessed his past to his employers but said he could not be a Communist because he was a very religious man. He had, in fact, been educated to be a Rabbi but had abandoned that career after his arrest. He escaped a prison term by accepting a commitment as a victim of a mental disorder called a "compulsion neurosis." He couldn't resist the temptation to steal that is the trouble of all thieves.

Gailmor is a portly six-footer weighing 200 pounds and still in his thirties. But he wasn't called on to go to the war because he was regarded as a psycho, the excuse of many cowards. The Blue Network insisted on keeping him for a time, but his Communist line and his association with Communists were so obvious that finally the pretense was dropped. He fell back into the small time on radio with a prosperous sideline of lectures to Jewish religious groups, which seem to have been deceived regarding his political background.

When Henry Wallace set out on his Northwestern tour last Winter, Gailmor bobbed up in the troupe in the role of money-raiser. He discoursed a patter to loosen up the suckers and he and his assistants were using a large milk can to carry off the collections.

The New York Herald-Tribune had a reporter along who wrote a special story about Gailmor. It was amusing and altogether favorable. It made no mention of his Communistic associations or his criminal past.

Sometime later I published for the first time the notorious Guru letters. Henry Wallace was challenged to deny that he had written them or to admit that he had. At a press conference a reporter for a radio station, not a newspaper reporter, although there were many newspaper reporters present, asked him to say whether he had written them. Wallace evaded with a vague reference to an "irresponsible columnist," meaning me. The letters, incidentally, reflected an unbalanced emotional or mental state in the author, whoever he was.

The Herald Tribune completely ignored the subject of the Guru letters. It has not mentioned them yet although I can say that it made an investigation of them several years ago. Thus it was not ignorant of their existence or their bearing on Wallace.

On the night of the riot at the Roxy Theater Gailmor said from the platform of Henry Wallace's rally in the Garden: "A few blocks down the street they are going to show a Fascist picture that should be boycotted by every right-thinking person. So you know what to do."

At the close of the rally a screaming mob of 2,000 Communists went to the Roxy. There was disorder and several persons were injured.

Howard Rushmore, of the Journal-American, an ex-Communist who formerly worked for the Daily Worker, wrote that the riot was actually sponsored by an organized Communist front. He named several well-known local Bolsheviki as the leaders.

Now to surround the Herald-Tribune.

Last Oct. 5, Gailmor made a local broadcast over WHN in New York with a guest artist who was Joseph G. Herzberg, the City Editor of the Herald-Tribune. Herzberg had written a part of and edited a new book called "Late City Edition."

In his introduction, Gailmor praised Albert Maltz, one of 10 Hollywood rewrite hands indicted for refusal to answer before the Thomas Committee whether they were or ever had been members of the Communist party. He also quoted Maltz in defense of himself and the other nine as "the conscience of mankind."

Gailmor then introduced Herzberg in extravagant terms. This thief and renegade of both his religious faith and the profession of journalism turned out to be an old friend of the City Editor of the Herald-Tribune, which professes to be a Republican paper. Gailmor called the City Editor "Joe." Herzberg called him "Bill." The Herald Tribune received the doubtful compliment of recognition by Gailmor as "a great newspaper." That would lift the H-T to the level of the Daily Worker and Pravda in his estimation.

Herzberg said the only test of a reporter's work on the H-T was "has the story been covered faithfully?"

As a test of the truth of that statement and of the Herald Tribune's conduct these facts are submitted: Herzberg is a friend of a notorious rogue who is a discredit to decent journalism and appears as his guest on a broadcast. Herzberg's reporter, in covering "faithfully" the story of Gailmor's work collecting money for Henry Wallace on tour, completely withheld the most informative facts about his City Editor's friend, or was the victim of editing to that effect. Herzberg's reporters, as presented in print, did not mention any of the great volume of information which unmistakably associates the City Editor's friend with a number of Communist fronts. The Herald Tribune ignored Gailmor's inflammatory remarks at the Garden and the ensuing riot.

This is too close to the real thing to be dealt with as an innocent vagary of the H-T.

I never have known of any newspaper in which all this queer business could have been pulled off without the intelligent knowledge of the owners and their consent or submission.

BUGS BAER

Bob Taft is stumping the suburbs and doing fine, so he writes. He has opened his mouth pretty wide but the other candidates are rapidly closing the gap.

Sooner or later some of these people's choices will have to disappear into that smoke-filled back room from which all blessings flow. make one.

We will know more about this business in Philadelphia when a National Committeeman staggers out of that smoke-filled back room for more compromises or more cigars.

Stocks Absorb Heavy Profit Taking and Continue Rise

NEW YORK, May 17—(AP)—The Stock Market resumed last week's advance late today after wading through heavy profit-taking sales most of the day. Closing gains ranged from fractions to around 2 points, which placed the market generally at a peak since August, 1946. Declines, and there were a good handful, were mostly fractional.

More individual issues changed hands than in any single session, topping the previous peak reached in Friday's racing market. Of the 1,398 issues listed, 1,161 were bought and sold.

Volume continued at a high level, although below the rate of Friday's and Saturday's tempestuous dealings. Sales of 3,050,000 shares compared with 2,590,000 in the two-hour weekend session and 3,840,000 Friday. Today's business, nevertheless, was rich fare for a business which has subsisted for weeks on daily volume of 700,000 to 900,000 shares.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks moved up .1 of one point to 71.3. This compared with Friday's advance of 1.7 and Saturday's .4 of one point.

Bond prices eased today in a market that showed a fair amount of activity. Most price changes were narrow, but now and then there was a shift of a point or more either way. While most of the changes were on small turnovers, substantial blocks of some rail issues changed hands.

Ahead in the curb were Aluminum Company at 67 1-8, International Petroleum 12 1-8, and Niagara Hudson Power 9 3-8. Volume of 810,000 shares compared with 920,000 Friday.

Brokers interpreted today's stock market as a long struggle between buying and selling forces.

The selling forces threw in wave after wave of profit-taking orders. For a while buying forces had to yield a little ground but—and this point was stressed—not very much. Toward the close of the market, after the full force of selling pressure had exhausted itself, demand was still in there and prices started moving up.

This school of thought claims that public psychology so far as the stock market is concerned is still essentially bullish. This view is backed up by such potentially stabilizing factors as the European aid and domestic rearmament programs, plus the recent cut in income taxes.

In addition, they say, the general level of stock prices has a long way to go before it reaches the present inflated condition of most other segments of the economy.

Wheat, Corn Gain After Slow Start

CHICAGO, May 17—A late buying movement took hold of wheat and corn today, pushing them higher after a session in which the trend was mostly downward. Oats recovered some of its early loss, but could not get up sufficient strength to end with gains.

Trading was active and prices moved over a fairly wide range. As an example, May corn dropped to $2.27, rallied a good five cents to $2.32, and then eased in the final minutes to close at $2.30⅜ to $2.30. It had the widest range of any contract.

Final prices on wheat were one-fourth to 1 and one-half higher, May $2.45¼-$2.45½, corn was three-fourths to one and one-eighth higher, oats were one-eighth to one and one-half lower, May $1.15-$1.15¼, and soybeans were up the eight-cent daily limit, May $4.14.

Feature of wheat during the early trading was selling of May against purchases of July, which was steady right from the start. Some European countries were said to be in the market for flour, but domestic business was dull. Visible supply of wheat dropped 2,843,000 bushels in the past week to 40,396,000.

The Commodity Credit Corporation was a heavy buyer of wheat last weekend, and the market firmed after the figures were announced. At Kansas City 1,819,333 bushels were bought Friday. Purchases at Minneapolis totaled 585,000 bushels on Friday and Saturday. At Chicago the Government agency bought 155,250 bushels Friday.

Open interest in May corn at the start today totaled 6,116,000 bushels. Trading in all May contracts ends at the close Friday, May 21. Toward the close the shorts in May corn started to cover and they found limited offerings. Eastern interests bought the deferred months.

Cash corn prices continued to be marked down. In the morning, when futures were lower, corn sold in the spot market at prices down 2 to 6 cents from last Saturday. Premiums over the May dropped 1 to 1½ cents. Recently, the spread between cash and the May future has been narrowed by a decline in cash quotations.

Weather was highly favorable for planting the new corn crop in the Mid-West. An Illinois elevator firm piinted out that rains earlier this month, which delayed planting, should lessen the threat of corn borer damage. Delayed planting will make the corn less vulnerable to corn borer attack.

Steel Industry Operation 95.4 Percent of Capacity

NEW YORK, May 17—Operations of the steel industry this week were scheduled at 95.4 percent of rated capacity, equivalent to 1,719,600 net tons of ingots and steel for castings, the American Iron and Steel Institute said today. This was the highest level in nearly two months. It compared with a rate of 94.3 percent and output of 1,699,700 tons last week. A month ago the industry operated at 80 percent to produce 1,442,000 tons, and a year ago the rate was 96.1 percent and total production 1,681,700 tons.

DRYGOODS REPORT

NEW YORK, May 17—Cotton textile trading encountered the usual Monday dullness as buyers continued disinterested in nearby offerings of print cloths and sheetings. Good interest was shown in heavier industrial materials, such as ducks, drills and twills for the second half of the year at firm prices. There were prospects of fair military buying in duck cloths. Wool goods held steady. Merchants watched developments in the spot wool markets at rising prices forecast another advance in woolen and worsted cloths for next Spring. Rayon goods were steady.

N. Y. Cotton Recovers In Late Buying Move

NEW YORK, May 17—Cotton futures closed $1.30 a bale higher to 80 cents lower today. Commission house and New Orleans profit-taking depressed prices as much as $2 a bale in early dealings, but the market recovered sharply when mill demand and short covering later disclosed a scarcity of offerings.

Traders actively liquidated nearby July against purchases of the new crop months because of the slow start of cotton exports under the ECA program. Buying in July partly anticipated signing of the Japanese private credit purchase agreement later this week which would make the credit covering some 300,000 bales of cotton operatively.

Washington reports that the United States and Spain have reached an agreement on the interpretation "looted gold" which was expected to make Spanish gold good security for private bank loans to buy United States cotton.

Favorable rains in Texas and Oklahoma over the weekend were reported. All future deliveries from October forward make new season's highs.

LIVESTOCK

GEORGIA-FLORIDA-ALABAMA

THOMASVILLE, May 17 — (USDA) — Livestock arrivals totaled around 300 cattle, 100 calves, and 1,600 hogs at seven major packing plants at Albany, Columbus, Thomasville and Tifton, Ga.; Dothan, Ala., and Jacksonville and Tallahassee, Florida.

The hog market continued with strong rates compared with Friday. Composite quotations at the major plants for soft and semi-hard hogs were as follows: Medium to choice barrows and gilts, 180 to 240 pounds, $18.50 to $19.50, with closely sorted long-hauled lots up to $19.75. Weights 240 to 270 pounds were $17.50 to $19; over 270 pounds, $16.50 to $18.50; 160 to 180 pounds, $17.50 to $19; 140 to 160 pounds, $15.50 to $17.50, and 120 to 140 pounds, $11.50 to $14.50. Medium and good sows were $14 to $16.50. The practical price limit in the area was $20.25 for butchers.

In the Georgia-Florida-Alabama cattle trend, the general market undertone was fully steady for most classes. Slaughter steers and heifers grading good and weighing 500 to 900 pounds, and sometimes more, were quoted from $25.50 to $29. A few strictly good and choice long fed steers were quoted at $30 and $31. Medium grade steers and heifers ranged from $22 to $27; common, $18 to $22.50, and canners and cutters, including steers, heifers and bulls, were $12 to $18, with a few up to $19.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO, May 17—A strong buying urge cleaned out all offered livestock today quickly and at prices $1.00 to $1.50 higher on hogs, mostly 25 cents to $1.00 higher on cattle, and strong to spots 50 cents up on sheep.

Butcher hogs grading good and choice sold from $17.25 to $22.25. The top hit $22.50. Sows were $15.00 to $16.50.

Five loads of steers merited the day's best price of $34.00, most steers and yearlings taking $31.50 to $33.50. Good and choice heifers were $31.50 to $32.50, choice Colorados making up to $33.25. Sausage bulls topped at $25.25 and vealers at $31.00.

Wooled lambs matched their record price of $28.50, first made last week, and shorns went as high as $26.00. Both wooled and shorn ewes got up to $14.00.

Total receipts included 15,500 hogs, 10,000 cattle, 800 calves, and 3,000 sheep.

Atlanta-Chicago Train Sets New Luxury Service

New, speedy and luxurious rail travel between Atlanta and Chicago will be inaugurated here June 1, when the streamliner Georgian goes into service on an overnight schedule between the two cities, George B. Harris, Division Passenger Agent of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway Company said Monday.

The Georgian, which was discontinued Saturday on its all-coach daylight schedule between Atlanta and St. Louis, will operate daily between Chicago and Atlanta, and between Atlanta and Chicago.

Harris said that two complete train units will be used. The trains will be made up of three coaches, a diner, a tavern-lounge, and two sleepers on the Atlanta-Chicago schedule. One coach and a sleeper will go to St. Louis from Evansville.

The new Georgian will operate between the two cities via N. C. & St. L., Louisville & Nashville, and Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroads. It will be powered by a diesel locomotive between Atlanta and Chicago.

An all-passenger train, the Georgian will carry no baggage cars and no mail.

The latest word in luxury travel, the Georgian will be staffed by a corps of specially trained attendants who will care for the needs of passengers between the two terminal points.

All seats on the streamline train will be reserved, Harris said.

Studebaker Trucks Pose For 5 States' Dealers

"The Studebaker Corporation had already made its plans to keep in step with the enormous economic strides we predict for the Southeast," Ken B. Elliott, Vice President in Charge of Sales, with headquarters in the main office at South Bend, Ind., said here Monday.

Elliott came to Atlanta to attend a dealers' show of the 1949 Studebaker trucks — known as the '49ers—at the Municipal Auditorium. Studebaker dealers from the Southeastern Region—covering the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and a part of Alabama—swarmed into the show to examine and approve of the new truck models.

"I do not want the people of this area to think me presumptuous in coming down here from Indiana and posing as an authority on conditions in the Southeast," continued Elliott. "But the fact is that during the late war the Studebaker Corporation began a survey of the economic possibilities of this area. We completed that survey shortly after the end of the war.

"As a result, we came to the conclusion that in terms of economic growth and development, the Southeast would make enormous industrial expansion and agricultural progress. So we prepared to aid and to share in that economic growth. The line of trucks you see here at this show is an example of what we have done."

W. K. Erdman, of Atlanta, is Studebaker's Southeastern Regional Manager.

ACL Granted Hand in FEC Reorganization

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 17 (AP)—Federal Judge Louie W. Strum Monday granted the petition of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad and seven other roads the right to intervene "as interested parties" in the reorganization of the Florida East Coast Railway.

The others were the Seaboard Air Line, the Southern, the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Pacific; the Alabama, Georgia-Southern, New Orleans and Northeastern; Georgia Southern and Florida and the St. Johns River Terminal Company.

Arguments for intervention had been presented only by the ACL.

Intervention was protested by Giles Patterson, counsel for the St. Joe Paper Company, a DuPont holding.

FFA Film Preview Inspires Businessmen, Educators Here

More than 50 Atlanta businessmen and educators got close to the land for 30 minutes Monday night as they previewed a technicolor film, "That Inspiring Task." The film depicted the work and objectives of vocational agriculture teachers and Future Farmers of America.

From the opening scenes picturing rural America in all its beauty and splendor to the final climatic moments when a group of Future Farmers repeated their famous creed, the film was a colorful, nostalgic panorama of rural progress, emphasizing the contributions of FFA members.

The guests were flattering in their appraisal of the movie, produced by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation. Comments ranged from "it made me want to go back to the farm" to "I love anything associated with those rural boys."

Joe Turner, of John McEachern School in Cobb County, State FFA Vice President, presided at the dinner which preceded the preview and gave a brief account of Georgia's FFA movement.

In the World of Business

JUNE DAIRY MONTH—C. D. Wayne, of Atlanta, State Chairman for the 1948 observance of June Dairy Month, announces that he is setting up local committees all over the State to push the observance. "The economy of milk," says Wayne, "will be the theme of the observance. From a nutritional standpoint, there is no better buy on today's market." Dairy Month is an annual observance of the dairy industry. With Hardie will be P. J. Lathrop, Assistant to the Vice President in charge of production; Stanley L. Bloyer, Engineer, and William R. Martin, Assistant to Lee Bristol, head of operations for the Company.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY CHANGES—B. E. Young, of Washington, Assistant to the President of the Southern Railway, Monday announced the following operating personnel changes: Lonnie I. McNutt, now Assistant Superintendent of the Knoxville (Tenn.) Division, will be Superintendent of the Georgia, Southern and Florida Railway, with headquarters at Macon. He will also have charge of the St. Johns River Terminal, at Jacksonville, Fla. He succeeds Berry F. Langford, who is retiring from the GS&F after 47 years of service. Albert W. LIQUOR INCOME—The State's income from whiskey licenses and sales will level off at approximately $10,000,000 this year, as compared with $12,817,606 in 1947, State Alcohol Control Director T. M. Price predicted Monday. Revenue from this source for the first four months of 1948 totaled $3,433,027, as compared with $4,777,004 for the same period last year, he reported. A comparison of stamp sales to dealers, which indicated liquor revenue would drop in half this year, is not a true picture, Price said, since dealers bought up stamps in large quantities last Fall and didn't have to replenish their supply this Spring.

REPORTER'S CASE—Litigation in the lengthy case involving a present Assistant Attorney General apparently was ended Monday when the State Supreme Court refused to review a Court of Appeals' decision. The Appellate Court had dismissed a suit which charged excessive pay to R. E. Nicholls, former Rome court reporter. Nicholls now is Assistant Attorney General.

SPECIAL WEEKS — Declaring there is widespread interest in the revival of world trade in Georgia through the activities of the State Ports Authority and the Georgia Port Development Association, Acting Gov. Thompson has proclaimed the present week as World Trade Week in Georgia. He also issued a proclamation designating the week of June 5-14 as Flag Week, commemorating the anniversary of the adoption of the Stars and Stripes as the emblem of the United States.

TEACHER GOES HOME—Phil Landrum, Executive Secretary to Acting Gov. Thompson, delivered the commencement address at Bowman High School in Elbert County Monday night. He used to teach there. Next Monday, Landrum will give the commencement address at another of his former schools. He will speak at Tate High School, with which his former school, Nelson, has been consolidated.

WANT ROAD—A delegation of 40 persons from Union and Fannin Counties called on Acting Gov. Thompson asking for the paving of a 12-mile stretch of road between Blairsville and Blue Ridge. Miss Pearl Henry, of Union County, and George Love, of Fannin County, said the improvement is needed for school busses, and that it would improve business in the mountain section.

TRAINING INSPECTORS—The eight factory inspectors with the State Department of Labor are attending a training school this week at the State Office Building.

GOVERNOR'S WEEK — Acting Gov. Thompson will address the civic clubs at Commerce Tuesday night, talk to the State Federation of Labor in Brunswick Wednesday, and address the Industrial Insurers Conference at Savannah Thursday.

Douty Proposes Arbitration Of Rome Strike Issues

In line with a recent editorial in The Atlanta Constitution, Kenneth Douty, Georgia Director for the Textel Workers' Union of America, CIO, Monday offered to arbitrate the issues in the two-month-old strike at the Anchor Rome Mills at Rome.

Douty made this offer in a telegram to the officers of the mill at Rome. That telegram read, in part:

"We are confident of the justice of our case. . . . We pledge that we will abide by the results of such arbitration."

In reference to the selection of an arbitrator, Douty said:

"We will either join you in an attempt to agree on an arbitrator or are willing to have such an appointment made by Acting Gov. Thompson, Ellis Arnall, Rep. Henderson Lanham, of Rome; Ralph McGill, Editor of The Atlanta Constitution; Clarence Williams, Regional Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service; Dr. Raymond Paty, Chancellor of the University System of Georgia, or any Georgian of similar position and responsibility."

Police Called Into Search For Two Missing Matrons

Police Monday were seeking the whereabouts of two attractive Atlanta matrons, missing since Thursday morning and feared by their families to be "held somewhere against their will."

Thomas Brown, construction worker, of 373 Pryor St., S. W., told police his wife, Mrs. Evelyn Brown, 26, and her sister, Mrs. Ruth Stephens, 31, both of the Pryor Street address, "went out job-hunting Thursday morning and failed to come home again."

Brown said Mrs. Brown telephoned him Friday night and wept as she said, "I want to come home and can't." He reported his wife said she was calling "from a drugstore" and said the connection was broken off while they were talking together.

Mrs. Brown, a blue-eyed blonde of slight build, was wearing a black-and-blue striped print dress when last seen. Her sister, who has brown hair and eyes, was wearing a white-and-green dotted dress. Any person knowing their whereabouts is asked to telephone Brown at AL. 2276-W.

Newton's View On Reds Gets Norris' Protest

By THOMAS M. ELLIOTT.

Georgia Baptists, 500 strong, journeying to Memphis today, to attend the annual meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention this week, anticipate no serious trouble during the session with any agitation that Dr. Frank Norris, of Fort Worth, may seek to provoke.

Dr. James L. Baggott, Pastor of the College Park Baptist Church, as spokesman for Atlanta Baptist pastors, advises that little attention be given to reports that may be circulated. For several years, said Dr. Baggott, Dr. Norris has sought to inject something each year that might bring confusion. Southern Baptists, by now, said he, have learned a technique of isolating disturbances.

Dr. Norris, this year, has given notice that he will this week introduce a resolution condemning the pro-Russian attitude of Dr. Louie D. Newton, President of the Convention. As coworkers in his effort, Dr. Norris has announced his purpose to have with him four Bible Institute students.

Messengers from all sections of the Convention's territory are aware of the possible sensation, but are netertaining no fears as to any serious disturbance.

From Hand to Mouth Quickly

By DORIS LOCKERMAN,
Woman's News Editor

BERMUDA—(Via Colonial Air Lines)—Curry mongole. Mounds of fresh crabmeat, succulently surrounding a hub of tart dressing. Fresh green stalks of broccoli, laced with Hollandaise. Rum and raisin ice cream.

The jaded cosmopolites who once sighed that Bermuda had everything but food, are now living here, literally, from hand to mouth.

There is enough variety on the island to suit the most capricious appetite and the most critical taste.

Theodore Titze, famous as the continental, dapper proprietor of Theodore's in New York, moved to Bermuda six months ago to take over the Belmont Manor, and his Parisian touch has already had its effect on his competition.

The keen eye of the man who brought the Ritz in New York to gustatory fame, now surveys the lobby and verandahs of the Belmont, seeking out the small signs of discontent . . . and if they cannot be assuaged with food and comfort, he calls for his genial wife and the guests become members of his personal family as long as they need the treatment.

This Mr. Titze does not feel is service beyond the call of duty.

"I am simply," he says, with an eloquent blandness, "the host to a very large family."

This embracing atmosphere in a 200-room hotel is quite an accomplishment and has managed to make its air recognized in many other quarters. Dinner guests, dressed impeccably in white dinner jackets and long gowns, appear nightly from all over the islands to dine and dance on its starlight terrace.

Belmont menus, under the direction of French Antoine Savoy, begin with breakfasts of tiny, native bananas in cream, little fish broiled in butter, cinnamon buns the size of Southern biscuits, and coffee that belies its English crockery. Not that it is not served in fine china . . . it is nothing to eat all Bermuda meals from unnicked Wedgwood . . . but it is hardly brewed in the English manner.

Neighboring Pink Beach, and now Elbow Beach is shouldering the Belmont for its cuisine reputation. Chicken salads, steaks, and the inevitable planters' punches with fresh slices of pineapple, orange and cherries floating in the tall drink compounded properly from four kinds of rum, are tantalizing regulars.

There will be no unemployment problem among Bermuda's pastry makers as long as visitors clamor for its famous little French pastries! You can imagine a flock of culinary artists struggling for hours to decorate the little eclairs and napoleons that are offered not once, but again and again, to the hungry.

At Glencoe, guest home of the Charles Parkers, an exotic old Jamaican negress, Esther, bends her turbaned head and bobs her golden loop earrings over her stove, blending mysterious oddments of herbs and seasonings to make masterpieces of such simplicities as turkey and dressing and sweet potato pudding.

Privately, Bermuda hospitality lives and revels on its never-ending stream of guests. You demur at invitations, trying not to intrude, and you are told emphatically that visitors with their new ideas and new inspirations are the life's blood of gay insular parties.

Last week Mrs. John Hornberg, chic and wealthy daughter of Sir Howard Trott, a Bermuda leader, mixed a roomful of English, American, Parisian and Romanian guests and few noticed that the Junoesque woman on the divan was Mrs. Anthony Eden, resting and having an island holiday before returning to India.

BERMUDA EVENING—An ideal dress for dancing under the stars in Bermuda, Adele Simpson's "convertible" dress in blue Hope Skillman chambray, changing from ballenrina length for dinner to a full-length evening dress by the addition of a white organdy accordion-pleated petticoat. Available at Rich's.

Luncheon To Honor Award Winners

Presentation of cash awards to winners in the package design competition conducted by High Museum School of Art under the joint sponsorship of Atlanta Paper Company and Rich's, Inc., will be the feature of a luncheon in the Magnolia Room Tuesday, May 18, honoring the successful candidates and the jury of judges.

Prize winners, Duff Sutton, Jr., Bill Jenkins, Miss Betty Stewart, Miss Jane Cochran, and Miss Louise Van Sant, will meet for the first time the judges who picked their entries: Edmund P. O'Connor, Homer W. Forrer and Alan L. Ferry.

Special guests will be Herbert Dean Oliver, President of the Atlanta Art Association, and the foursome from High Museum whose co-operation made the competition one of the most stimulating projects of the school year: Ben E. Shute, Robert S. Rogers, David Reese and Mrs. Edna W. Turner.

The awards will be made by Arthur I. Harris, Jr., on behalf of Atlanta Paper Company, and Richard H. Rich for Rich's Inc.

Raisins

Use golden raisins in dishes for a change. They are delicious with apple and celery in a salad, excellent in applesauce cake, delectable in a sauce for tongue or ham.

BRIDGE By Charles H. Goren

Copyright: 1948: By Charles H. Goren

(This is the first of a series of articles on the Blackwood convention which Mr. Goren will continue to discuss for the next four days.)

It is with distinct misgivings that I set out to write this series of articles for I am persuaded that it will be a thankless task. If I have been fortunate enough to engage the sympathy of the reader up to this point, I am now in imminent danger of losing his good will inasmuch as I shall find it expedient to suggest a curtailment in the use of this, his favorite drug.

Despite a widespread impression to the contrary, it has never been my purpose to dispute the merits of the Blackwood convention. But I think there is little doubt that it has been the most over-used bridge gadget ever devised.

It all came about from some one having held forth the claim that it can be learned in five minutes. This claim must have been launched by the real estate agent who described the house as just "a stone's throw from the station." I fear the claim is without foundation. In a sense Blackwood can be learned in five minutes, just as one may be told how to drive a car in that period of time. But I for one, am opposed to being chauffered around by anyone who has picked up the "trade" that quickly and may heaven protect you from the partner who has learned Blackwood in this speedy manner.

To be sure one can learn to say "Four no trump" in five minutes and acquaint himself with the responses. I know a seafaring man whose parrot has added to his normal sea-going vocabulary the expression "Four no trump" but you are welcome to have him as a partner in a set match (I mean the parrot) anytime you want.

In point of fact, Blackwood is a rather difficult convention and unless you are willing to make this concession, and take time out to learn its proper use, I can see little hope for your salvation.

To start with, there are not enough players who seem able to recognize when a four no trump bid is Blackwood and when it is not. An overwhelming majority labors under the impression that any bid of four no trump calls for a display of aces. If partner opens with four no trump they show aces. If partner overcalls an opening four bid with no trump, they show aces. If partner has raised them from three to four no trump, because it's the only chance he has had to offer a no trump raise, they show aces. Now this is all wrong and cannot be learned in five minutes. I therefore beseech you for a little bit more of your time.

Lest I open myself to the charge of prejudice, let me quote from Easley Blackwood, the author of the convention:

"We do not pretend that the Blackwood convention will solve your slam problems because there are certain types of hands that cannot be covered by Blackwood."

"The Blackwood convention is subject to abuse and players are warned against trying it too often."

"During the preliminary rounds the player must make certain that Blackwood will produce better results than cue bidding or a direct try for slam."

My own impression is that if you use the Blackwood convention on more than 25 per cent of your slams, you are probably overdoing it.

Fashion Show At Davison's

Versatility of costume will be the theme of Davison's "Summertime is Playtime" Fashion Show, to be held in the Fabrics Center of the store, second floor, on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 18 and 19, at 11 a. m. and 2 p. m. of both days. The show will feature make-it-yourself ensembles, and Miss Joan Pote, of New York, will be guest commentator.

Among the cotton fashions to be highlighted at the "Summertime Is Playtime" show are playclothes, spectator outfits, town and formal clothes, and mother and daughter outfits.

Hapeville Garden Club To Meet

The four divisions of the Hapeville Garden Club will meet in joint session Thursday at 11 a. m. at the barbecue grounds of Hapeville City Park.

Ribbons will be awarded the divisions for attendance by Mrs. Beeler Blevins, President.

Following a brief business meeting, members will visit gardens in the park and private gardens in Hapeville.

Mrs. J. W. Easley will make color films of the tour, the movie to be shown at an early date.

Questions and Answers

VITAMIN B IN DIABETES

Please explain the value of vitamin B-complex in diabetes and its relation to the dosage of insulin. (L. J.)

Answer—One function of vitamin B is to promote the metabolism of utilization of carbyhydrate. The diabetes patient supplementing the restricted diet with vitamin B complex may find it necessary after several weeks to reduce the daily dose of insulin. Send 10 cents and addressed envelope bearing your address.

BUSHEL OF WHEAT, PLEASE

We bought a bushel of wheat at the farmers' market six months ago and we have used most of it—as a breakfast cereal. It cooks so quickly in the morning and is delicious. Besides I use four cups of it in my bread recipe, ground fine. (Mrs. T. C.)

Answer—What courage you have, ma'am. Most housewives are too timid to buy plain wheat from market, farmer, mill, feed store, seed store, and too timid to use it in the everyday dietary without the sanction of some food baron.

EGGS

Is raw egg more digestible than cooked egg? Is soft-boiled or poached egg more easily digested than hard-boiled or fried egg? Has the color of the egg shell any bearing on the quality of the egg? (F. P.)

Answer—A small portion of the raw egg white passes through the alimentary canal undigested, so cooked egg is more digestible than raw egg, for cooking converts the indigestible part into digestible. The idea that raw egg is more nourishing, strengthening or digestible than cooked egg probably grew out of the observation that an invalid may swallow (drink) more raw egg than he can eat cooked. Egg cooked as YOU prefer is most digestible for you. The color of the shell has nothing whatever to do with the quality of the egg.

FILLING BABY TEETH

Our dentist puts in just temporary fillings for he said they are sufficient as it is just the baby teeth. (Mrs. F. E.)

MISS JUANITA BOYD

Miss Boyd To Wed Weymon Bennett

William Richard Thompson announces the engagement of his granddaughter, Miss Juanita Boyd, to Weymon Lee Bennett. The wedding will take place June 12 at 8 o'clock at the Kirkwood Baptist Church.

The bride-elect's parents are the late Mr and Mrs. H W. Boyd. She graduated from Commercial High School where she served as president of the Junior Civitan Club, coeditor of the Skyscraper, and appeared in Who's Who. She later attended Georgia Evening College, and is now connected with Orr Refrigeration.

Mr. Bennett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edward Bennett. His mother is the former Miss Lois Gibbs. He attended Georgia Evening College and is now connected with the Atlanta Paper Company.

SALLY FORTH Says:

Doting Atlanta Parents To See Daughters Graduate

A group of popular Atlantans will receive their degrees this month, thus representing the city at some of the most outstanding schools in the country. First to don cap and gown was Margaret Boyd, who graduated from Vassar yesterday. Her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Montague Boyd, left last week to be on hand for the exercises.

On Monday, May 31, Peggy Sheffield and Martha Davis will graduate at Sweet Briar College. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Sheffield, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Davis, will attend. Also on May 31 will be the Wesleyan graduation, and among the seniors will be Anne Ragan, Sarah Curry and Dottie Anne Smith. Anne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ragan, and her fiance, Lee Morrison, will go to Macon to attend the candle-lighting service on May 29, and they will remain for graduation. Attending Sarah's graduation will be her aunts, Mrs. Francis Jones and Miss Brook Jeter, Mary Anne Curry, and Mr. and Mrs. George Curry, of Birmingham. Dottie Anne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. DeFord Smith, plan to arrive in Macon in time for the parents' dinner Sunday evening and stay through Monday.

Ruth Hoppe will graduate from Sophie Newcomb on June 2, and Mary Stearns from Gulf Park Junior College on May 31. Mrs. Lewis Hoppe and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stearns, accompanied by Mrs. L. D. Hoppe, Sr., will motor to New Orleans together on Friday, May 28. They will be joined by Dr. Hoppe, who will fly down on June 1.

Receiving their degrees at Randolph-Macon on Monday, June 7, will be Anne Weyman, Sally Hall and Mary Pringle. Mrs. George Weyman, Margaret Weyman and Mrs. Van Holt Hall will leave on Friday, June 4, by motor for Lynchburg. Mrs. R. S. Pringle also plans to attend the Randolph-Macon graduation. She will leave on June 1, accompanied by Mrs. C. Norman Ramsey, to spend several days in Williamsburg, Va., en route.

Anne Groves will graduate from the University of Georgia School of Journalism on June 10, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Groves, plan to attend. Catherine Pritchett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Pritchett, and Charlotte Hoffmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hoffman, will also graduate from the University. Another University graduate is Eleanor Gibson. Her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Gibson, and her aunt, Mrs. Virginia Braxton, of Washington, will go to Athens for the event.

At the Agnes Scott College graduation on May 31, six popular Atlanta belles will be among the seniors. They include Jane Campbell, Carol Equen (Jean Henson, Rebekah Scott, Emily Wright and Mary Humphries.

Boardman-Witham Wedding Date Set

Sarah Virginia Gardiner writes in the Augusta Herald that lovely Betty Boardman will be married to Dr. Calhoun Witham, of Atlanta, next Saturday at a Presbyterian Church ceremony in New York City, with a small reception for the two families afterwards at Sherry's.

Betty will graduate from Katherine Gibbs School in Boston this week, and she has planned her marriage to follow the auspicious occasion. Calhoun's sister, Harriet Witham, will be one of Betty's attendants.

After the ceremony, the happy couple will board a plane for a month's honeymoon in Honolulu.

The Butlers To Move To Florida

After living practically all of her life in Atlanta, Connie (Adams) and her Lt. Col. husband, Edward Butler, are moving to Panama City, Fla., on or about June 1.

Ed, who is with the Air Corps, was transferred to Tyndall Field in January. Connie and her daughter, Constance, have remained in their apartment on Peachtree Road until the completion of their home in Panama City, which should be in about two weeks. It is as attractive as can be, is located on Allen Street, and is built of white clapboard.

Connie is in the throes of packing. On June 1 she will join Ed in Panama City, but Connie, who is a student at Christ the King School, will be the guest of her aunt and uncle, Hortense and Frank Boston, on Sixteenth Street, until school is out.

MRS. GEORGE W. McKAY, JR.

Mrs. McKay is the former Miss Mary Dorothy Spivey, daughter of Mrs. John C. Spivey and the late Mr. Spivey, whose marriage took place recently at the bride's home on Manford Road.

Georgia Department American Legion Auxiliary

Mrs. L. M. Dewell, College Park, State Publicity Chairman

Call to the twenty-eighth Annual State Convention of the American Legion Auxiliary has been issued by the Georgia Department, Mrs. C. L. Edmunds, President, to be held in Atlanta, June 24-27, in conjunction with that of the American Legion. The ALA headquarters will be at Henry Grady Hotel. Credential blanks and resolution blanks have been mailed to units throughout the state.

A. B. Reisman, 15½ Peachtree St., Atlanta, is Chairman of the Housing Committee and says that reservations must be made directly through him 30 days before the Convention. No reservations will be accepted by hotels in Atlanta unless they first pass through the Housing Committee. Mrs. L. P. Moon, General Chairman of ALA, and Mrs. E. M. Lowery, Cochairman, have asked that in requesting hotel reservations direct to Mr. Reisman to state: "You are a member of the ALA and to what unit you belong, giving name of town and number of unit. These are all double rooms and you must send in a deposit of $5 per person."

Twenty-eight new units have been organized this year, making a total of 18 units in the Georgia Department.

Many of the ALA District Presidents have been holding their Spring meetings recently. The Third District, Mrs. Margaret Harvard, President, met in Unadilla. There are 22 auxiliary units in the Third District.

The Fifth District, Mrs. L. P. Moon, President, met at Clubhouse of Atlanta Unit No. 1. There are 18 Auxiliary units in the Fifth District. Mrs. A. C. Wilcoxon, of Atlanta, was elected Fifth District President, with Mrs. J. C. Hambright, of College Park, as alternate. All new District Presidents will be installed at the State Convention. All new Unit Presidents will be installed by their units after the State Convention. The First District President is Mrs. Annie M. Grimm, of Savannah; Second, Mrs. E. T. Hughes, of Camilla; Fourth, Mrs. L. G. Lifsey, of Barnesville; Sixth, Mrs. L. K. Bloomer, of Macon; Seventh, Mrs. Mack Hicks, of Rome; Eighth, Mrs. W. B. O'Quinn, of Jesup; Ninth, Mrs. Guy Strickland, of Jefferson, and Tenth, Mrs. Jack Skinner, of Augusta.

NEWS OF THE CLUBS

Atlanta Woman Recalls BWMU Founding in 1888

For the past two days Southern Baptist women have been converging upon Memphis, Tenn., for the observance of the sixtieth anniversary of BWMU at its annual two-day convention which opened there yesterday.

The first session of BWMU was held in Richmond, Va., on May 11, 1888, 10 Southern States having previously voted to organize and to send delegates. Georgia was represented by three delegates.

At least one Atlanta woman, Mrs. R. L. Turman, remembers those days when Baptist women took their first steps toward forming an auxiliary. The former Maude Pollard, she was only a small child living in Richmond, but she recalls the sensation caused by that initial meeting. Her aunt, Mrs. James Pollard, served as Recording Secretary for the organization from 1888 to 1892.

Since then the BWMU has grown to 46,722 organizations, with a total membership of 806,201. The first year the gifts totaled $30,773, and in 1946 they were $7,817,774. From the WMU Training School 3,032 students have gone out to serve in every phase of denominational work.

Mrs. Frank Burney, of Waynesboro, is Southwide Chairman for observance of the sixtieth anniversary. The Atlanta delegation is headed by the State President, Mrs. Paul Ethridge, and includes Miss Janice Singleton, Executive Secretary-Treasurer; Miss Sarah Stephens, Young People's Leader, and Glendon McCullough, Royal Ambassador Leader, Mesdames C. H. Whetstone, D. G. Stroup, Otis Johnson, Carl Couch, S. D. Katz, Fred Bridges, Clarence Sessions, D. J. Evans, W. B. Willingham, G. Dorsey Smith, H. H. Cathcart, B. W. Medlock and A. G. Sullivan.

The Peachtree Hills Woman's Club will meet tomorrow at 3 o'clock with Mrs. Harold Hopkins, 110 Peachtree Hills Ave., N. E., with Mrs. J. P. McMahon serving as cohostess. Plans for the year's work will be outlined and new committees appointed.

The Executive Board of the Georgia Tech Woman's Club will meet tomorrow at the home of Mrs. John J. Pershing, 4177 Wieuca Rd., N. E., at 10:30 a. m.

New officers and chairmen of standing committees are: President, Mrs. Jesse Mason; First Vice President, Mrs. Clarke W. Hook; Second Vice President, Mrs. W. Vincent Neisius; Secretary, Mrs. Thomas H. Evans; Treasurer, Mrs. Alphus Marshall; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. William H. Eberhardt; Welfare, Mrs. Herman Fulmer; Membership, Mrs. Henry L. Edwards; Parliamentarian-Publicity, Mrs. Joe Moore, and Properties-Student Aid, Mrs. Walter Reynolds.

The Atlanta Grandmother's Club will meet tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Owen M. Bowling, 788 Adair Ave., N. E. Each member may bring a friend.

The Decatur Woman's Club will meet Friday at 3 o'clock at the clubhouse. F. L. Anthony will give a meatcutting demonstration, followed by reports from delegates to the State Convention of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs. These delegates are Mesdames A. C. Dickson, W. D. May, A. B. Lee, R. A. Manning, J. H. Allison and George S. Obear. Mrs. Frank B. Brewer will sing. Newly elected officers of the club will entertain at tea.

MISS MARJORIE MABRY

Miss Mabry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Mabry, will be installed as Worthy Advisor of the Buckhead Assembly No. 20 at Sardis Lodge No. 107 tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock.

PARTY TO FETE MRS. H. L. WALSH

Mrs. Harry L. Walsh, of Chicago, who arrives Wednesday evening to spend several days with her sister, Mrs. Ryburn Clay, on Cherokee Road, will be feted on Thursday evening at cocktails and a buffet supper by Mickey Cebollero at his home on Golf View Drive.

Mrs. Walsh and Mrs. Clay leave on Saturday for St. Louis where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walker Hill.

Miss Dee Is Engaged To James M. Fields, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Dee announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Louise Dee, to James M. Fields, Jr., of Atlanta. The marriage will take place June 5 at Fort McPherson Chapel.

Miss Dee is employed by Packard Motor Car Company.

The groom-elect is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Fields, Sr. He is now employed by Packard Motor Car Company.

Mrs Swan Weds Henry C. Baldwin

Robert J. Hardeman, of Atlanta, announces the marriage of his daughter, Mrs. Nell Hardeman Swan, to Henry C. Baldwin, which took place recently in the Pastor's Study of the Capitol View Baptist Church. Dr. W. Lee Cutts performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families and a few close friends.

CHANNING COPE'S ALMANAC:

Georgia Soil Owners Are Lucky Free Men

TUESDAY, MAY 18, 1948

Suggestion of the day: At Cumming, Ga., on May 27, the growers of Kentucky 31 fescue grass are making their fields available for inspection to farmers and others interested in year-round pastures. There are about 300 growers of this grass in Forsyth County, all of whom are co-operating.

One nice thing about going away, it's so nice to get back. A person just naturally settles down to some particular spot and calls it HOME and when the expeditions into other sections of the country are over, he hurries back to his own spot with appreciative eye and speeding pulse. He treads the paths of familiarity once more. The easy chair fits him cozily and the things which are his gather 'round about him intimately. He is home and glad of it.

The luckiest man alive is the one with some Georgia soil. For he is closed to being his own master than anybody else on earth. The soil, though worn, can be revitalized and this causes hope. With intelligent handling, it can be made to produce and this justifies the hope. And in working with the soil, there comes a very definite satisfaction lacking in so many other trades and enterprises. One is his own boss, definitely and finally. He is his own boss even to the extent of doing wrong.

Anyone who gives the matter any thought knows that it is the producers of the world who count. Once it was a question of who you were, then it became a question of how much you had, and now it is a matter of what you do with what you have. We are now on a safe and sound basis.

Down under the layer of subterfuge and pretension, the thinking man finds that those things which have given him the greatest satisfaction result from producing something of value; a nail, a carrot, or a piece of cloth. He learns that the hours spent in producing something, stand out.

To own a piece of Georgia soil and to move it around and make it produce is a work of basic importance. To be engaged in such work is to have a part in the eternal processes. To go a step further and make this your main work is to find yourself in a setting second to none in importance, in satisfaction, and in prospect.

We'll be looking for you at 6 a. m. and 12:45 p. m. these days over WCON. The friendliest people on earth join with us at these times and talk things over. Maybe you'd enjoy the experience. We'd like you to be with us.

Until then,

Channing Cope

Finance Man Besieges War Hero's Farm

A Georgian who holds the Distinguished Service Cross stands in danger of losing his farm.

On Nov. 6, 1918, Cpl. Tom Silver, of Athens, Ga., single-handedly captured and destroyed a machine gun which was making progress impossible by operating against the flank of his company. For that deed, Silver received the second highest honor bestowed on American soldiers.

Monday, Silver, who lives on Route 1, Comer, Ga., came to Atlanta trying to do something to save his farm. He said he was in desperate straits and knew nothing to do. The war hero said he missed a payment on his note and that the entire unpaid balance of $2,600 has been called.

John Elliott, of Athens, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, offered to start a public subscription with $50 to keep the hero from losing his farm.

Tune in WCON Tuesday at 1 P. M. for the presentation of five COLUMBIA bicycles chosen by Wheaties, the Breakfast of Champions, as prizes to the winners of the Jack Armstrong contest. The lucky winners are:

Pat R. Hamby, 249 Medlock Road, Decatur, Georgia.

Winning Cardinals Change Dyer's Rating

It was just about a year ago that they were calling Eddie Dyer a goat and blaming him for the sad plight of the St. Louis Cardinals, who managed to win exactly two of their first 13 games.

But now those who were directing the razzberries at the soft-spoken Mr. Dyer have done an about face and are cheering him for having that same St. Louis team now in first place in the National League standings.

All of which proves the fickleness of a baseball fan and the uncertainty of the manager's profession.

In 1947, for some inexplainable reason, pitchers like Howie Pollet and Murray Dickson couldn't get anybody out and a man named Stan Musial was hitting less than .200 and showing little signs of snapping out of it.

Several of the other boys were suffering from other ailments, either physical or mental, and it all combined to send the defending champions into the cellar of the standings.

Overlooked was the fact that Dyer brought his club out of that slump with a sufficient rush to finish second to Brooklyn, which was certainly no small accomplishment and should have reflected great credit on Mr. Dyer's ability as a manager.

But naturally nobody thought about that.

Card Aces Regain Form This year, Dickson and Pollet are winning, and Musial, back in the outfield, is clouting the ball at a lusty pace. Marty Marion's knee ailment isn't acting up and the catching is getting better.

Consequently, the Cards are winning again and Mr. Dyer once more is acceptable in the circles reserved by fans for good managers.

Of course, the Cards have shown no tendency to walk off with the flag and another typically tight National race down to the last week of the season is in prospect.

At this writing, Jim Hearn, the Atlanta boy, has won one and lost one for Dyer's team and he didn't look too good in his last start.

But the Card manager isn't worried about the ex-Tech star who won 12 games last season.

"He's young and there's nothing wrong with him physically," Eddie told reporters. "Hearn will come around all right."

Southern Chase Tightens Here in the Southern League, the race has shown signs of tightening in recent days, thanks mainly to the lowly Lookouts of Chattanooga.

At this writing, those Lookouts have just finished cutting down the powerful Nashville Vols for the third game in a row, much to the delight of Joe Engel and other club owners of the loop.

As a result, Birmingham is virtually tied with the Vols for the leadership and neither is too far out of sight for three or four other clubs, including Atlanta, to catch during the long Summer grind.

So far, the Vols and Barons appear as the standout teams of the league. There is little doubt that Birmingham is the best balanced and all-round club, but beating out the Sulphur-Dell-tailored Nashville club, which plays half its games at home, is quite an assignment.

Mobile, Memphis, Atlanta and New Orleans are capable of moving into contention and none of these clubs appear much better than the others.

The Crackers, continuing to show gradual improvement, will be tough indeed if and when Bill Kennedy and Carl Lindquist hit the winning road and the rookies, Ken Deal and Mason Leeper, keep up their recent good work.

Wave May Quit SEC ---Writer

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 17—(AP)—Sports Editor Fred Russell of the Nashville Banner said in his "Sidelines" column Monday that "at Birmingham over the weekend the low and inside buzzing among Big 12 football coaches and athletic directors concerned the possibility of Tulane withdrawing from the SEC."

Tulane has refused to go along with the rest of the conference on one phase of the new grants-in-aid program," Russell went on.

"The majority of SEC schools voted to enter into sort of a gentleman's agreement honoring grants-in-aid signed before the new NCAA code became law. That is, if a high school senior had signed an application to seek entrance to a certain Southeastern Conference school, the other schools would not go after him.

"The situation is too complicated to go into every detail, but Tulane bases its stand on its interpretation of a bulletin letter from Acting Commissioner N. W. Daugherty to every SEC member last Fall.

"Anticipating the NCAA action outlawing open athletic scholarships, Tulane ceased to sign up prospective high school seniors. Other members did not.

"Now Tulane says it will offer grants-in-aid to any boys within its area even if they have signed such applications with other SEC schools.

"The next move is up to the conference. If any action of a prohibitive or penalizing nature is taken, Tulane may withdraw from the league."

140 PLACES OPEN

Record Field Enters U. S. Open Qualifying

NEW YORK, May 17—(AP)—The largest number of golfers in the history of the event—including Defending Champion Lew Worsham and nine past title holders—have fixed their sights on the National Open championship at Los Angeles June 10-12.

Joe Dey, Executive Secretary of the United States Golf Association, announced a count of entries after Monday's close showed a total of 1,440 with designs on Worsham's crown.

"That may be give or take a little," Dey said, explaining the checkup is not complete. "But we are already assured the biggest original field we ever had."

The largest previous entry was in 1937 when 1,402 tried to make the Open at Oakland Hills in Detroit.

Thirty-one players are exempt. That means the others will vie for 140 places in sectional qualifying trials. The field at Los Angeles' Riviera Country Club will total 171.

Twenty-seven of the 29 sectional tryouts will be staged June 1. Honolulu will hold its eliminations May 25 and Los Angeles will have its trials May 27-28.

Lew Worsham, the Pittsburgh professional who won the title last year while registering from Washington, D. C., heads the list of stars who won't have to wrangle for places in the lineup.

The top 20 finishers and ties of last year's tournament—in this case 21 players—automatically qualify. Of this list, 20 will try again.

Past champions who will compete as exempt contenders are Charles Evans, Jr., amateur (1916), Tommy Armour (1927), Olin Dutra (1934), Gene Sarazen (1922-32), Lawson Little (1940), Ralph Guldahl (1937-38), Craig Wood (1941), Tony Manero (1936) and Lloyd Mangrum (1946).

Also exempt are the national amateur champion, Robert H. (Skee) Riegel, of Upper Darby, Pa., and the host professional, Willie Hunter, of the Riviera Club. Hunter was the amateur champion of Britain in 1921.

Dey announced places for the section trials will not be allotted until next week.

Two of the largest and most interesting tryouts are expected at Los Angeles, because it is the home city, and Fort Worth, Tex., because it will attract a gala collection of topflight professionals.

Many of the touring pros will be vieing in the Colonial Country Club Invitation Tournament at Forth Worth just before the June 1 Open trials.

They have been given permission to seek to qualify there instead of in their own bailiwicks.

Team Tag Match East Point Feature

Red Dugan and Wild Bill Collins will match might against Mr. X and Joe Harbin with Mile Hi Ross doing the refereeing in the featured team tag match on the weekly wrestling card at the East Point auditorium tonight.

Joe Estes and Tony Mello will mix it in the one-hour limit, two-out-of-three falls opener at 8:30 p. m. The feature will be a two-out-of-three falls, 90-minute limit tiff.

REVISED PLANS PAY OFF

New Stance and Borrowed Bats Aid Keltner in Hitting Spree

By LARRY SMITH

CLEVELAND, May 17—(AP)—A new stance at the plate, a pair of borrowed bats and a $5,000 bonus have contributed to Ken Keltner's current hitting spree.

The bats were acquired from Al Rosen, rookie who failed to oust the Cleveland Indians' veteran from his third-base post. The bonus came from Tribe President Bill Veeck for Keltner's 1947 performance. Ken adopted the new stance himself.

When Rosen was optioned to Kansas City shortly before the Tribe arrived home from its Spring barnstorming tour, he left behind a pair of bats bearing his signature.

One afternoon, in an effort to head off an impending slump, Keltner picked one up and tried it in batting practice. It felt good, it sounded good when it met the ball, but more than that, it drove two out of the park in the first six swings.

That was enough for Keltner. He used it in the final two exhibition games against the Giants and got five in eight trips to the plate—his most productive efforts of the long jaunt north.

As the seasoned opened, it was the same story. At one point, it seemed as if the streak might end as Keltner caught one of Dizzy Trout's fast balls on the handle and snapped the lucky club in two.

But the mate proved just as effective and Keltner continued at a pace that has netted a .356 average and 12 circuit smashes for the major league leadership. Keltner already has surpassed his last year's total home run output of 11.

His all-time major league high was 26 round-trippers in 1938, his first full season with the Tribe.

Yankee Stars of 25 Years To Play in Anniversary Tilt

NEW YORK, May 17—(AP)—An imposing array of former New York Yankee baseball greats, including Babe Ruth, are scheduled to gather here Sunday, June 13, for Yankee Stadium's silver anniversary celebration.

George M. Weiss, General Manager of the Yankees, announced plans for a brief preliminary game between members of the Yankees' first world championship club—1923—and a group of all-stars who participated in 10 succeeding world titles.

He said Ruth, who is now in California helping make a movie of his life, has accepted an invitation to attend.

The ceremony will precede the regular game between the Yankees and the Cleveland Indians.

Since the stadium was opened in 1923, the Yankees have won 13 American League pennants and 11 world crowns. Weiss said representatives of all of these clubs would be at the stadium birthday party.

One-Armed Pete Gray Making Comeback Try

ELMIRA, N. Y., May 17—(AP)—Pete Gray, the one-armed outfielder from Nanticoke, Pa., who played in the big leagues during the war, is back in organized ball. It probably is his last chance.

After a wartime flurry at Memphis in the Southern Association where he hit .333, stole 68 bases and had 35 extra base hits, Pete went up to the St. Louis Browns. In 1945 he hit only .218 against big league pitching and the next year at Toledo he batted .250 in 48 games.

When Gray refused to report for the money offered in 1947, he sat out the year on the suspended list.

This Spring, at an admitted age of 31, Balding Pete wanted to give organized ball another whirl, so the Browns sent him to their Class A Eastern League farm at Elmira.

James Self Cards Ace at North Fulton

James M. Self, Jr., scored a hole-in-one on the 190-yard No. 5 hole at North Fulton Monday morning. He dropped his first shot with a six iron on the par three hole.

Self was playing with his brother, Frank, when the ace was scored. He went on to card a 33-35 for an 180-hole score of 68.

CHARLEY GLOCK GETS $25 FINE, 3-DAY SUSPENSION IN SQUABBLE

MOBILE, May 17—Charley Glock, Atlanta third baseman, who was chased in the fourth inning of Sunday's second game with Mobile for protesting Umpire Jim Parker's decision in calling him out on an attempted steal of second base, drew a $25 fine and a three-day suspension from League President Charlie Wurth, it was announced Monday.

Glock, who had never been put out of a game in his 12 years of play, said he slid in under the runner and that Umpire Parker called him safe and then out. When he protested, the umpire waved him from the field.

Brown Net Team Trims Smithies, 2-1

The Brown High tennis team defeated Smith High netters, 2-1, on the West End courts Monday. Arthur Bartell gained Smith's point by trimming Jimmy Black, 4-6, 6-2, 6-3.

John Robinson, of Brown, won over Herbert Axelrod, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, in singles. Phil White and Bill Bright copped the doubles from Hiram Cohen and Victor Copeland, 6-1, 6-0.

Bird Heads Tennis Group

Tom Bird was elected president of the Atlanta Lawn Tennis Association at the annual business meeting of the organization Monday night at the North Side Tennis Club. He succeeds Frank Coyne.

Other officers elected were: Davis Rives, Vice President, and Natalie Cohen, Secretary and Treasurer.

The ALTA announced that the annual city tournament would be staged the week of June 21 at North Side. A city boys' tournament will be run off at the Druid Hills Golf Club courts on the same date as the city senior meet.

The Association also announced that it had earmarked $250 to be used in promotion of the local Junior Davis Cup squad and to send promising youngsters to out-of-town meets.

Sandy Springs Wins

Sandy Springs defeated the Mt. Bethel nine, 6 to 2, Sunday afternoon at Mt. Bethel in a North Atlantic League game.

Kalb Stars as Tech Defeats Auburn, 13-8

By ERSKINE LOVE

AUBURN, Ala., May 17—Georgia Tech's baseball team, making a determined bid for the Eastern Division crown of the SEC, defeated the league-leading Auburn Tigers here Monday, 13-8.

For the Yellow Jackets, it was Henry Kalb who came through in the clutches and led the Tech hitting attack. Kalb collected four singles and a triple in six times at the plate to drive in six of the Jackets' runs and score four himself.

For the Tigers, Bill Williams, third baseman, had a perfect day at the plate, collecting four singles and a double in five times at bat.

Willard Nixon, star pitcher for the Tigers, who roams the outfield when not on the mound, also had a good day at the plate, collecting three hits in five times. The Techsters got off to an early lead by scoring one in the third and two in the fourth. Auburn came back with four runs in their half of the fourth but Tech scored four more in the fifth.

Dick McMillin, starting hurler for the Jackets, pitched good ball for six innings but had to yield in the seventh after a base on balls and a double by Russell started a Tiger rally.

McMillan received credit for the win and Francis, starter for the Tigers, received the loss.

Owls Play Canton On Wednesday

West Fulton and Canton will play one of the most important NGIC games of the season at Canton Wednesday afternoon.

An Owl victory would give Vic Hansard's charges a tie with Decatur for the Conference crown. D. T. Smith's Greenies can stalemate the Bulldogs for the title themselves by beating West Fulton and then downing Fulton in the play-off of a tie tiff.

Roosevelt Can Clinch Tie for Title With Win Over Murphy Nine Today

By CHARLIE ROBERTS

O. V. Bruner's Roosevelt High clouters, currently setting the pace in the City League, have more cause to want to win a baseball game this afternoon than at any other time this season. The reasons are many.

First, the Crimson Tide can clinch at least a tie for the loop championship. Second, it will assure the Brunermen of a berth in the State tournament at Macon, starting June 1. Third, it would break the jinx Murphy High has held over the Crimson all year. (They have not won a victory in a major sport from the Eagles). Fourth, a Roosevelt triumph will eliminate Murphy, Grady and Brown from the pennant fight.

Bruner will lean heavily on the booming bats of his Thumping Triumverate—Ray Newsome, Bob Dendy and Richard Bush—and the strong right arm of the season's

CITY LEAGUE STANDINGS

Brown	7	4	.636	Smith	0	10	.000
Murphy	6	4	.600

pitching sensation—Edwin Webster—for victory in the all-important engagement.

Newsome, with 17 hits in 34 at bats for a .500 stick average; Dendy, with 16 blows in 35 trips for a .457 mark, and Bush, with 19 safeties in 42 at bats for .452, are the three leading hitters in the league, and Roosevelt's team average of .325 is by far the best in the loop.

Webster, who last Thursday faced only 28 men and fanned 12 in a nine-inning relief stint to give Roosevelt a 4-3 12-inning decision over Bass, has whiffed 96 men and allowed only 29 hits in 73 innings so far. His only loss in seven games was to Murphy, today's foe. Teammates' errors hurt as he pitched three-hit ball against the Eagles and struck out 15 only to bow in a hurling duel to Joe Willingham, 2-1.

Willingham will again be Webster's mound opponent when the Crimson duel Morris Phelps' lads at Kirkwood, home field of the Eagles, today.

O'Keefe's second-place Fighting Irish can retain a chance to tie for the gonfalon even if Roosevelt triumphs by getting by potent Grady at Glenn Field today. Billy Stewart will do the elbowing for Hank Langston's forces. Coach George O'Kelley, of the Knights, will choose from Keith Comer, Lowell Hopkins and Carl Donaldson, all righthanders.

Bass will take on Smith at Candler Park in another City League contest today.

Blatnik and Dubiel Top Big Rookie Crop

CONDENSED FROM AP, UP AND INS

Little-heralded Outfielder Johnny Blatnik and Walt Dubiel, of the Philadelphia Phillies, appear to be the top prizes from the 1948 draft crop, which was the largest in 20 years.

With 13 of 29 rookies now back in the minors, Blatnik has the distinction of winning his berth from now light hitting Harry Walker, 1947 National League batting champ. Before Monday night's game Blatnik was batting .409. He rapped .334 at Wilkes-Barre last year.

Dubiel, with the Yankees during the war, came up from Seattle to win a starting berth with the Phils. The right-hander shut out the Giants on three hits in his last outing. Pitcher Bill Kennedy, who fanned 456 at Rocky Mount, N. C., in 1947, also is beginning to look good for Cleveland.

Joe Engel, continuing his efforts to strengthen his Chattanooga club, has obtained Pitcher Frank Dasso from Sacramento. Shortstop Lloyd Lowe, with Columbus, Ga., in the Sally last year, has been sold by the Chicago Cubs to Decatur Ill., of the Three-Eye League.

Jersey Joe Walcott added Curtis Sheppard to his staff of sparring partners.

"I want Sheppard because of his punching ability and roughness," Walcott says. Boxing is monopolized by a small clique, former Boston Welterweight Johnny Vacca told a special legislative committee in Massachusetts.

Martin J. Broussard, head athletic trainer at Texas A. & M., will return to LSU. He held the Texas job for one year after holding the same post at the University of Florida.

Eternal Reward, surprise winner of the American Derby two years ago, scored an upset win in the $10,000 Crete Handicap Monday at Lincoln Fields. A horse named Meal Time finished third in a race in England Monday. England won the Women's Field Hockey World championship by beating the Netherlands, 1-0.

Fred Kovalski and Bernard (Tut) Bartzen won the Southern Conference doubles title for William and Mary. They hail from Michigan and Texas.

Hungary knocked France out of the running for the Davis Cup as the Quarter-final bracket in the European Zone competition was virtually completed. John Bromwich arrived in London to play in the Wimbledon championships. He had no opinion on the possibility of his rejoining the Australian Davis Cup team.

2 Gamecocks To Enter AAU

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 17—(AP)—The University of South Carolina Gamecocks will enter two men in the annual Southeastern AAU track and field meet at Georgia Tech in Atlanta May 22.

Norman (Scooter) Rucks will run the 220 and 440-yard dashes. Ed Coleman will compete in shot put and discus.

Rucks set a Southern Conference 440 record of 47.4 seconds in the meet at Chapel Hill, N. C., last week, and turned in a 21.5-second 220.

Coleman's best shot put for this season was 49 feet 4 inches.

The wrestling card at the Auditorium this week will be presented on Friday night at 8:30. The program offers four bouts, including the tag team event finish.

In the tag team match, Al Galento, known as the Black Widow Spider, returns to team with Tom Mahoney against Tarzan White and Jack Ross, Jr.

The main event is between Jimmy Coffield and George Craig.

Bears Rip Crackers By 11 to 7

By F. M. WILLIAMS
Constitution Sports Writer

HARTWELL FIELD, MOBILE, Ala., May 17—The Mobile Bears pushed over six runs in the first two innings off Shelby Kinney, then withstood a seven-run onslaught at Rube Melton's expense in the seventh to win an 11-7 decision from the Atlanta Crackers here Monday night.

Kinney, charged with the loss, was followed to the mound by Charley Sproull, John Myers, Bob Katz and Bill Kennedy, with the last three runs being scored off Kennedy in the eighth.

Melton started for the Bears and was the winner, although Dale Matthewson had worked the last two frames for him.

Carl Lindquist will pitch for the Crackers in the series finale Tuesday night with Armond Cardoni working for the Bears.

The Bears got to Kinney for three in the first. Abrams walked, but Colombo flied to right for the first out. Shuba beat out an infield hit and Hart did the same thing to load the bases.

Greer singled to center, scoring Abrams and Shuba. Calderone's double drove Hart home, and the Bears were out front 3-0 in the first.

Melton opened the second with a double to left. Abrams rolled out, advancing the Bear pitcher to third. Colombo's single to center scored Melton and Shuba's triple sent Colombo home. Hart singled off Verble's glove and Shuba came home to make the score 6-0 in Mobile's favor.

Charley Sproul, who replaced Kinney in the third, was touched for a run in the fourth. With one out, Shuba, Hart and Greer singled and Shuba scored on the last safety.

John Myers took over for the Crackers in the fifth and walked Ruchser. Melton sacrificed and Abrams struck out. Colombo walked and Shuba singled to right to drive Ruchser home and put the Bears out front, 8 to 0.

The Crackers finally got to Melton in the seventh. Dozier and Verble singled and Logan, batting for Myers, beat out a hit to first to load the sacks. Hollis singled to right-center to score two.

Bracchitta was hit by a pitched ball, loading the bases again. Hajduk dumped a single to right to send Logan and Hollis home. Neill's single scored Bracchitta and Matthewson replaced Melton on the mound for the Bears.

Mathis flied to right for the first out , but Maynard doubled to left-center to score Hajduk. Dozier flied to right and Neill came home after the catch to leave the Crackers trailing by only one run, 8-7.

Mobile got to Kennedy for three more in the eighth and cinched the game. With one out, Shuba tripled to right and Hart walked. Gree's sacrifice scored Shuba. Calderone's fly to left fell for a single when Neill and Bracchitta let it fall between them and Hart scored. Evans' fluke double into right sent Calderone home.

John Hall, who pitched nine shutouts for the 1947 championship Bears last year, and Willard Ramsdell, who won 21 and lost five for Fort Worth in the Texas League, will join Mobile Wednesday. The Dodgers don't intend for the 1947 Southern loop champions to look too bad. What else they need will be forthcoming.

When Buster Maynard singled in the second inning of Monday's game, it was his eighth hit in 18 trips to the plate during the current road trip.

Stan Wasiak, pepper-pot second baseman for the Mobile nine, was on the bench Monday night with a pulled muscle. The little guy didn't miss a game last season. Gordon Evens, whose home run won the second game of Sunday's double-header, took Wasiak's place.

He was reported resting comfortably late Monday night.

Headless, Handless Bodies Found

LOS ANGELES, May 17—(AP)—The headless and handless bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dirksen were found Monday in a lonely desert area near Mojave.

Their partly-cremated heads and their hands were discovered Sunday in an incinerator in the rear of Dirksen's radio repair shop in East Los Angeles.

Sheriff's deputies said Robert Hansen, 24, who has been booked on suspicion of murder, led them to the bodies about 150 feet off a dirt road.

The investigators said the body of Dirksen, 35, was wrapped in a blanket and trussed with wire. The nearby body of Ogla Dirksen, 30, was wrapped in a plaid car robe and bound with wire.

The Dirksens had been missing from their home and shop for several days.

Their three-year-old son, Ralph "Sparky" Dirksen, was found unharmed in a boarding home at nearby Compton. Sheriff's Lt. Garner Brown said Hansen gave deputies the address and said he had taken the little boy there.

Treasury Hits At Oleo Tax

WASHINGTON, May 17 —(AP)—The U. S. Treasury, several Congressmen and union leaders Monday urged repeal of Federal taxes on oleomargarine.

The Senate Finance Committee heard testimony of about 25 witnesses favoring repeal as it began a two-day hearing on what to do with the 62-year-old tax on oleo. Those against the Bill will testify Tuesday.

Opponents, mostly from dairy States, say the tax is needed to eliminate fraud in its sale. Those in favor of repeal, many of them from cotton and vegetable oil states, call the tax discriminatory. The Treasury wants to be rid of the tax so it can apply more time to collecting of others.

Beasley To Stay, Says Thompson

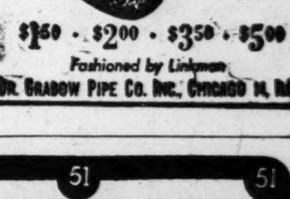

Acting Gov. Thompson Monday denied reports that John Beasley would take a leave of absence from his post as State Highway Director to manage Thompson's gubernatorial campaign.

Thompson said Beasley would continue as State Highway Director. He said he had not selected a campaign manager. L. C. (Tiny) Groves, of Lincolnton, former State Welfare Director, is the headquarters director for the Thompson campaign.

They have that Certain Air

The polar bear and Budweiser have one thing in common : : : each grows up in the cleanest of air. Beginning in the starting cellars, where yeast is added to the brew, and on down through the fermenting, ageing and finishing cellars, ingenious filters keep the air pure. This costly precaution protects our priceless, pure-cultured yeast from micro-organisms that could mar and even ruin its all-important work. This safeguard is only one of many, many steps that makes ours the most expensive brewing process known. Every sip of Budweiser says it's worth it.

MAKE THIS TEST! DRINK Budweiser FOR FIVE DAYS ★ On the sixth day try to drink a sweet beer. You'll want the distinctive taste of Budweiser thereafter

Because of our great expansion program, more Budweiser is available now. Demand it wherever you go.

RAWISZER INFANT

The infant son of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Rawiszer, of Wise, Va., died Monday there. He is also survived by his grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Hubert Rawiszer, of 220 W. Pace's Ferry Rd., N. W. Funeral arrangements will be announced.

Your City Hall

City Council Monday:

1. Authorized purchase of a three-fourths acre tract at the northeast intersection of Trinity and Central Avenues for $40,000 for the purpose of constructing a $150,000 health building to house all divisions of the City Health Department.

2. Passed an ordinance barring "U" turns on all Atlanta streets except at intersections, and ordered installation of a traffic signal light at North Avenue and Juniper Street be given top priority in any future installations.

3. Approved a new ordinance regulating the operation of child care homes in Atlanta. Also sent to City Council's Health and Sanitation Committee for a public hearing proposed ordinance regulating peddlars and the display of perishable foods. The hearing will be held at 3:15 Wednesday, June 2, Donaldson said.

4. Authorized Mayor Hartsfield to sign a contract for conversion of the telephone system in the City Hall to a dial type at a cost of $87.50 monthly. The contract also will include seven new trunk lines into the building.

5. Selected Clement J. Ford as architect for proposed $35,000 branch library at East Atlanta, and sent to Council's Tax Committee a proposal by Councilman John A. White, Tax Committee Chairman, to revise and modernize the entire tax system. A fund of $15,000 for purchase of addressing machines for the division also was approved. White has set the hearing for 3 p. m., May 31.

6. Sent to Council's Finance Committee a request from W. B. Jones, Service Officer of East Atlanta Post No. 159, American Legion, for a $69 refund the Post paid for rents in behalf of J. H. Lee, a disabled veteran, who lives at the Veterans' Camp. The City established the camp in an effort to mitigate the housing shortage. Jones said the Post has little money for charitable purposes and asked the refund be made to bolster money available for that purpose.

7. Agreed to permit Capitol View Post No. 161, American Legion, to convert the Capitol View Presbyterian Church into a Post clubhouse. The church will build on another location.

8. Passed resolutions praising Police Chief Jenkins, officers of the Police Department and chaperones for a fine job in accompanying members of the School Boy Patrol to Washington and for not having a "political" axe to grind; approved resolutions designating Robert & Company, engineers, to prepare plans for proposed new $300,000 combination headquarters and fire signal building at the southeast corner of Gilmer and Courtland Sts.; expressed regret at the illness of Councilman Ralph Huie, Finance Committee Chairman, who is recuperating at Emory Hospital following an operation; designated June 6 as "Shut In" day in Atlanta at the request of Councilman Archie Lindsey; and passed measures congratulating Councilman and Mrs. Howard Haire on observing their 34th wedding anniversary Monday and Robert W. Woodruff, for his 24 consecutive years as an official of the Coca-Cola Company.

9. Welcomed former Ald. Lester Brewer who visited the Council session, and a group from the Emory University School of Journalism.

MAYOR'S DAY—Mayor Hartsfield is convinced that the business of being Atlanta's chief executive is no bed of roses. Monday he ticked off on his fingers a series of vicissitudes which added up to a "lost weekend." The list: The inadvertent release of Jesse James Roberts, Jr., alleged automobile thief, from the Atlanta jail; the theft and wrecking of his official automobile; the loss of a $15 fountain pen while on a mining prospecting trip last Saturday, and an oral clash Monday with Ben Dumas about the revocation of a beer and wine selling permit for Hamburger Heaven. The Mayor spent most of Monday answering a heavy mail and receiving visitors.

BEER PURGE PLEDGED—Marvin A. Allison, State Director of the United States Brewers' Foundation, had pledged co-operation in ridding the City of "beer joints." Hartsfield last week declared war against operators of such places if they violate the laws. Allison told the Mayor "we will see that such places are promptly investigated with a view of preferring charges against them . . . if violations are found." He invited Hartsfield to provide information on which his organization can act.

AUDITORIUM CONCESSION—Members of City Council's Buildings and Athletic Committee are slated to meet at 2 p. m. today in Mayor Hartsfield's office to consider bids for operation of the concession at the Municipal Auditorium.

GAS COMPANY PAYS—The Atlanta Gas Light Company has paid $24,428 to the City representing a percentage of company receipts for the first quarter of 1948, City Clerk Joe Richardson has reported. The Company pays one percent of its gross receipts as a franchise tax.

WATED PROBLEM—Paul Weir, Atlanta Waterworks Superintendent, has called air-conditioning engineers to meet in his office at 2:30 p. m. today to study the mounting demands such systems make on Atlanta's water supply. Weir has proposed that conservation units accompany installations to conserve water. Under the plan, the water would be recirculated and used again and again. Most local installations use the water once and divert it into the sewers. This causes considerable waste.

Miss Henrietta Greer Funeral Rites Today

Funeral services for Miss Henrietta Greer, 18, former Atlantan, of Union Mills, S. C., who died Saturday in Rutherfordton, N. C., will be conducted at 2:30 p. m. today in Rock Chapel Methodist Church, with the Rev. Weyman Fields officiating. Burial will be in the churchyard.

Miss Greer is survived by her father, George Greer, of Austell; three sisters, Mrs. J. W. Cole, Mrs. C. L. Coble, both of Atlanta, and Mrs. Otis Harbin, of Stone Mountain, and three brothers, Frank Greer, of Austell; James Greer, of Stone Mountain and Samuel Greer, of Avondale Estates.

E. S. Manley Dies; Was Seed Broker

Emory Spear Manley, 70, of 1054 Astor Ave., S. W., died Monday in a private hospital.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by West View Funeral Home.

Mr. Manley, a seed broker, had been a resident of Atlanta since 1935. He was a native of Toccoa.

He is survived by his wife; two sons, E. T. and N. M. Manley, both of Atlanta; a daughter, Mrs. Frank Whittington, of Montgomery, Ala.; three sisters, Mrs. R. A. Whitmire, Mrs. Edna Phillips, and Miss Ola Manley, all of Carnesville, and five grandchildren.

MAKING OF A HERO

'Pray-It-Out' Adviser of York Dies in Hills

JAMESTOWN, Tenn., May 17—(UP)—The Rev. R. C. Pile, who told a young World War I conscientious objector named Alvin C. York to "go up to the mountain and pray it out," has died in his beloved Tennessee hills, it was disclosed Monday.

The 70-year-old minister died 10 days ago and was buried at the Old Wolf River Methodist Church. News comes slowly out of the hills where Sgt. York marched off to a hero's glory.

In his famous advice to the young mountaineer, the Rev. Mr. Pile told York that if he was satisfied that the Lord was willing for him to go to war, the church would be satisfied, too.

York finally decided to fight, and later won the salute of Gen. John J. Pershing as "America's outstanding soldier of war."

RELUCTANT JURORS — They ran into a juror-shortage in Judge E. E. Andrews' section of Superior Court Monday when three Negroes came up for trial on a charge of murder. Twenty-six veniremen were excused because they said they were opposed to capital punishment in cases involving circumstantial evidence. With only 10 jurors left out of five panels of 60, Judge Andrews was about to postpone the trial when defense attorneys volunteered to accept two jurors they had earlier rejected. State Attorney William Boyd accepted also and the trial of Eddie Cox, Henry Cox and Joseph Murray, charged with the slaying of Henry Shepherd, Negro, got under way.

SEWER STUDY—County Commissioners will hold a special meeting at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday to receive bids on sewer extensions. A Public Works Committee meeting is set for 2 p. m. Thursday.

MONEY, NOT MEAT SHORTAGE—All shortages considered, you can still buy a lot of meat for $179.40, Luther M. Creel, Jr., complained to Clerk T. E. Compton, of Criminal Court of Fulton County. What annoyed him was the fact that he sold a lot of meat, belonging to the Clayton County Produce Company, to G. A. Hardwick, of 66 Pryor St., and Mr. Hardwick's check, Creel said, was no good. He obtained a warrant for cheating and swindling against his customer.

Solution to Yesterday's Puzzle

News About Georgia

By SAM CLARKE

Compiled From Constitution State News Reports

Schools in Ware and Meriwether Counties will get considerable improvements if bond issues totaling $1,034,000 are approved in elections scheduled for June. The Meriwether County Board of Education has decided to call a $459,000 school bond election on June 23. The Waycross City Commission reported that a $575,000 bond election will be held June 15.

CLINCH RAPS TRUMAN

The Clinch County Democratic Executive Committee has called on President Truman to "renounce publicly any aspirations he has for the Presidency." The resolution also lashed out at Truman's Civil Rights program, asserting that "his election would be a blow to the internal peace of this nation."

THE CHAIR IS EMPTY

The chair which occupied a spot on Valdosta's busiest downtown sidewalk is gone. Its occupant is dead.

Several months ago "Coffee Clubbers," who gather each morning at a local restaurant to sip java, chiped in and bought a chair for Walter Prescott, retired naval stores operator. The chair was placed in front of a store with the sign: "Property of Walt Prescott."

Mr. Prescott suffered a heart attack shortly after a coffee sipping session, and died 20 minutes later.

GETS FILM POST

James McCormick, who has served as assistant cameraman and script writer for Southern Educational Film Production Service at the University of Georgia in Athens, has joined Columbia Pictures Corporation. He is a sales representative in the South for the Hollywood firm, and has offices in Atlanta.

GEORGIAN GRADUATES

Wiliam M. Hutcheson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard D. Hutcheson, of Temple, Ga., has been commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Army, following his graduation last week from the Army Officer Candidate Course at the Ground General School in Ft. Riley, Kas. The Georgian, who recently was featured as "Candidate of the Week" in a post newspaper, will continue his studies in a specialized course to prepare him for his future military assignment.

W. M. Hutcheson

GREEN YOLK, THAT IS!

Some Georgia farmers probably will be green with envy when they learn that a hatchery operator claims he can cause hens to produce eggs with green yolks.

Army Shifts Gen. Moore From Trieste Command

WASHINGTON, May 17—(AP)—The Army Monday announced the transfer of Maj. Gen. Bryant E. Moore from command of United States troops in Trieste to Washington. He will succeed Maj. Gen. Floyd L. Parks as Chief of the Army Public Relations Division.

Maj. Gen. William M. Hoge, commanding the Engineer School at Fort Belvoir, Va., will succeed Moore at Trieste. The changes will take place in June.
